The label we sent you on Pub. 393, Federal Employment Tax Forms, for use on your 1993 Form W-3 is a little too wide. Before attaching the label, please do us a favor and trim the right side so the label fits the space allotted for it on Form W-3. It's okay to cut off some label information. Thanks for your help.

- Social Security Tax 6.2% each for employers and employees
- Medicare Tax 1.45% each for employers and employees
- Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax 6.2% (employers only)
- 1994 Wage Base for Social Security Tax $60,600

New Forms 945 and 945-A for 1994

All nonpayroll items have been removed from Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, beginning in the first quarter of 1994. The nonpayroll items include backup withholding and withholding for pensions, annuities, IRAs, and gambling winnings. These nonpayroll items will be reported on Form 945, Annual Return of Withheld Federal Income Tax. Form 945 is an annual tax return and the return for 1994 will be due January 31, 1995. Form 941 will continue to be filed quarterly. Form 945 filers who are required to deposit on a semiweekly deposit schedule will attach the new Form 945-A, Annual Record of Federal Tax Liability. See Chapter II, page 21, for details.

Separate Deposit Requirements for Form 945 Tax Liabilities

Separate deposits are required for nonpayroll (Form 945) income tax withholding on payments made after December 31, 1993. Be sure to mark the checkbox for Form 945 on the revised Form 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupon. DO NOT combine deposits for Form 941 and Form 945 tax liabilities. See Chapter II, page 21, for details.

Form 941E, Quarterly Return of Withheld Federal Income Tax and Medicare Tax, will be eliminated. Previous filers of Form 941E will be required to report any employment tax and withholding from wages on Form 941 beginning in the first guarter of 1994. Income tax withholding on nonpayroll items must be reported on Form 945 and deposited separately as discussed above. See Chapter II for details.

Calendar

The following is a list of important dates. Also see Pub. 509, Tax Calendars for 1994.

Note: For any due date, you will meet the "file" or "furnish" requirement if the form is properly addressed, mailed, and postmarked on or before the due date. If any date shown falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, use the next business day.

By January 31

Furnish each employee a completed Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement. Furnish each recipient a completed Form 1099 (e.g., Form 1099-R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc., and Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income). You may furnish Form W-2 or 1099 by mail as explained in the Note above. (See Chapter III, section 1.)

Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax.—File Form 940 or Form 940-EZ, Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return. However, if you deposited all the FUTA tax when due, you may file Form 940 or 940-EZ by February 10.

By February 15

Ask for a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, from each employee who claimed total exemption from withholding last year.

On February 16

Begin withholding for each employee who previously claimed exemption from withholding but has not given you a new Form W-4 for the current year. If the employee does not give you a new Form W-4, withhold tax as if he or she is single, with zero withholding allowances. The Form W-4 previously given you claiming exemption is now expired. (See Chapter I, section 9d.)

By February 28

File Copy A of all Forms 1099 with Form 1096, Annual Summary and Transmittal of U.S. Information Returns, with the Internal Revenue Service Center for your locality. (See Chapter III, section 1.)

By the Last Day of February

File Copy A of all Forms W-2 with Form W-3, Transmittal of Wage and Tax Statements, with the Social Security Administration (SSA). (See Chapter III, section 1.)

Allocated Tip Reporting.—File Form 8027, Employer's Annual Information Return of Tip Income and Allocated Tips, with the Internal Revenue Service. (See Chapter I, section 6.)

By April 30, July 31, October 31, and January 31

Deposit Federal unemployment tax due if it is more than $100. File Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, and pay any undeposited income, social security, and Medicare taxes. If you deposited all taxes when due, you have 10 additional days from the due dates above to file the return.

File Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees, and pay the tax due. (See Chapter I, section 13.)

Before December 1

Income Tax Withholding.—Ask for a new Form W-4 from each employee whose withholding allowances will change for the next year.

On December 31

Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate, expires. Eligible employees who want to receive advance payments of the earned income credit next year must give you a new Form W-5.

Reminders

Tax Law Changes for 1994

The Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 resulted in the following changes affecting 1994 employment taxes.

- Medicare Wage Base Limit Eliminated.—Effective January 1, 1994, the wage base limit for Medicare tax has been eliminated. All 1994 taxable wages are subject to Medicare tax.
- Supplemental Wage Withholding Rate.—The withholding rate for supplemental wages has been increased to 28% for payments made after December 31, 1993.
- Moving Expense Reimbursement.— Effective for expenses incurred after 1993, reimbursed and employer-paid moving expenses that are otherwise deductible by the employee are not included in employee income. Reimbursed and employer-paid moving expenses that are not deductible by the employee are included in income and subject to employment taxes and income tax withholding. Deductions for certain moving expenses have been eliminated. See page 4 for details.
- Educational Assistance.—The exclusion of employer-provided educational assistance programs from employee income has been extended retroactively to amounts paid from June 30, 1992, through December 31, 1994. See Pub. 508, Educational Expenses, for details. If you have been including qualified educational assistance in employee wages after June 30, 1992, follow the existing rules for correcting prior employment tax returns. (See Chapter I, section 12, for details.)
- Interest on Tax Refunds.—Effective January 1, 1994, no interest shall be allowed on refunds of employment tax if refunded within 45 days of the date the tax return was filed. Similarly, if a refund on a claim is paid within 45 days of the date the claim is filed, no interest will be paid for the period after the claim was filed.

When Hiring New Employees

Eligibility for Employment.—You must verify that each new employee is legally eligible to work in the United States. This will include completing the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification Form. The form can be obtained from INS offices. Contact the INS for further information concerning your responsibilities.

Income Tax Withholding.—Ask each new employee to complete the 1994 Form W-4.

Name and Social Security Number.— Record each new employee's name and number from his or her social security card. Any employee without a social security card should apply for one. (See Chapter I, section 4.)

When Paying Wages or Annuities

Income Tax Withholding.—Withhold tax from each wage payment or supplemental unemployment compensation plan benefit payment according to the employee's Form W-4 and the correct withholding rate. (Employers who have nonresident alien employees, see Chapter I, section 9.) Withhold from periodic pension and annuity payments as if the recipient is married claiming three withholding allowances, unless he or she has filed Form W-4P either electing no withholding or giving a different number of allowances, marital status, or additional amount to be withheld. Do not withhold on direct rollovers from qualified plans. (See Chapter I, sections 5, 9, 10, and Chapter II, section

Social Security and Medicare Taxes.—Withhold 6.2% from each wage payment in 1994 for social security. Stop when you reach $60,600 in taxable wages. Withhold 1.45% from each wage payment in 1994 for Medicare. (If the employee reported tips, see Chapter I, section 6.)

Recordkeeping

Keep all records of employment taxes for at least 4 years. These should be available for IRS review. Records should include:

- Your employer identification number.
- Amounts and dates of all wage, annuity, and pension payments.
- Amounts of tips reported.
- The fair market value of in-kind wages paid.
- Names, addresses, social security numbers, and occupations of employees and recipients.
- Any employee copies of Form W-2 that were returned to you as undeliverable.
- Dates of employment.
- Periods for which employees and recipients were paid while absent due to sickness or injury, and the amount and weekly rate of payments you or third-party payers made to them.
- Copies of employees' and recipients' income tax withholding allowance certificates.
- Dates and amounts of tax deposits you made.
- Copies of returns filed.
- Records of allocated tips.
- Records of fringe benefits provided, including substantiation required under Code section 274 and related regulations.

Change of Address

To notify the IRS that you changed your business mailing address or business location, send Form 8822, Change of Address, to the IRS

Unresolved Problems

If you have a tax problem you have been unable to resolve with the IRS, write to your local IRS district director or call your local IRS office and ask for Problem Resolution assistance. This office will take responsibility for your problem and ensure that it receives proper attention. Although this office cannot change the tax law or technical decisions, it can frequently clear up problems that resulted from previous contacts.

Hearing-impaired taxpayers with access to TDD equipment may call 1-800-829-4059 for Problem Resolution assistance.

Additional Forms or Publications

If you need to order forms or publications, including additional copies of this booklet, you may use Form 7018-A, Employer's Order Blank for 1994 Forms, at the end of this booklet or you may call 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Chapter I. Payroll Taxes

This chapter explains your tax responsibilities as an employer. It explains the requirements for withholding, depositing, reporting, and paying taxes. It explains the forms you must give your employees, those your employees must give you, and those you must send to the IRS and SSA. (Detailed filing requirements and instructions for completing the forms, including instructions for correcting previously filed forms, are contained in the instructions for each form.) This booklet also has tax tables you need to figure the taxes to withhold for each employee for 1994.

Most employers must withhold (except FUTA), deposit, report, and pay the following employment taxes—

- Income tax.
- Social security and Medicare taxes.
- Federal unemployment tax (FUTA).

There are exceptions to these requirements. See pages 15 through 20. Railroad retirement and railroad unemployment repayment taxes are explained in the Instructions for Form CT-1.

See Chapter II, Nonpayroll Income Tax Withholding, for information on depositing and reporting Federal income tax withheld from nonpayroll items. These items include backup withholding and withholding from pensions, annuities, IRAs, and gambling winnings. Effective January 1, 1994, nonpayroll income tax withholding must be reported on the new Form 945 and has separate deposit requirements.

1. Are You an Employer?

Generally, an employer is a person or organization for whom a worker performs a service as an employee. The employer usually gives the worker the tools and place to work and has the right to fire the worker. A person or organization paying wages to a former employee after the work ends is also considered an employer.

Specific definitions of employers apply for income and FUTA tax purposes.

Income Tax Withholding.—For income tax withholding purposes, the term employer includes organizations that are exempt from income, social security, Medicare, and FUTA taxes

FUTA Tax.—For FUTA tax purposes, an employer is:

- Any person or organization (other than an agricultural or household employer) that during this year or last year either:
- 1. Paid wages of $1,500 or more in any calendar quarter, or
- 2. Had one or more employees at any time in each of any 20 different calendar weeks.
- Any agricultural employer who during this year or last year either:
- 1. Paid cash wages of $20,000 or more to farmworkers in any calendar quarter, or
- 2. Employed 10 or more farmworkers during some part of a day for at least 1 day during any 20 different weeks.
- Any household employer who during this year or last year paid cash wages of $1,000 or more during any calendar quarter for household service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority.

Federal Government Employers.—If you are a Federal agency, the information in this guide applies, except deposit Federal taxes only at Federal Reserve banks or through the FedTax option of the Government On-Line Accounting Link Systems (GOALS). See the Treasury Financial Manual (I TFM 3-4000) for more information.

State and Local Government Employers.—Wages of your employees are generally subject to Federal income tax withholding. In addition, wages of your employees, with certain exceptions, are subject to social security and Medicare taxes. See page 19 for more information on the exceptions.

You can get information on reporting and social security coverage from your local IRS office. If you have any questions about coverage under a section 218 (Social Security Act) agreement, contact the appropriate state official.

2. Employer Identification Number (EIN)

If you are required to report employment taxes or give tax statements to employees or annuitants, you need an EIN.

The EIN is a nine-digit number the IRS issues. The digits are arranged as follows: 00-0000000. It is used to identify the tax accounts of employers and certain others that have no employees.

If you have not asked for a number, request one on Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number. You can get this form at IRS or SSA offices.

You should have only one number. If you have more than one and are not sure which one to use, please check with the Internal Revenue Service Center where you file your return. Give the numbers you have, the name and address to which each was assigned, and the address of your main place of business. The IRS will tell you which number to use. Use your EIN on all the items you send to the IRS and SSA.

If you took over another employer's business, do not use that employer's number. If you don't have your own number by the time a return is due, write "Applied for" and the date you applied in the space shown for the number. Please see Pub. 583, Taxpayers Starting a Business, for more information on how to file returns, etc., if due before you have received your number.

See Depositing Without an EIN on page 9 if you must make a deposit and you have not received your EIN.

3. Who Are Employees?

Generally, employees can be defined either under common law or under special statutes for special purposes.

Employment Status Under Common Law.— Anyone who performs services is an employee if you, as an employer, can control what will be done and how it will be done. This is so even when you give the employee freedom of action. What matters is that you have the legal right to control the method and result of the services. Also see Statutory Employees on page 4.

Generally, people in business for themselves are not employees. For example, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, construction contractors, and others in an independent trade in which they offer their services to the public are usually not employees. Also see Statutory Nonemployees on page 4.

If an employer-employee relationship exists, it does not matter what it is called. The employee may be called a partner, agent, or independent contractor. It also does not matter how payments are measured or paid, what they are called, or whether the employee works full or part time.

There is no employee class difference. An employee can be a superintendent, manager, or supervisor. Generally, an officer of a corporation is an employee, but a director is not. An officer who performs no services or only minor ones, and who neither receives nor is entitled to receive pay of any kind, is not considered an employee.

Whether an employer-employee relationship exists under the usual common law rules will be determined, when there is any doubt, by the facts in each case.

If you have good reason for treating a worker other than as an employee, you will not be liable for employment taxes on the payments to that worker.

To get this relief, you must file all required Federal tax returns, including information returns (Form 1099-MISC), on a basis consistent with your treatment of the worker. You (or your predecessor) must not have treated any worker holding a substantially similar position as an employee for any period after 1977. See Rev. Proc. 85-18, 1985-1 C.B. 518, for further details.

This relief is not available, however, to a business that furnishes technical service specialists (e.g., engineers, computer programmers, and systems analysts) to clients. In these cases, the employment relationship between the business and the technical service specialist will be determined under the common law rules.

Note: If you, as the business that furnishes technical service specialists to clients, correctly treat a technical service specialist as an independent contractor under the common law rules, you will not be liable for employment taxes on that individual. See Rev. Rul. 87-41, 1987-1 C.B. 296, for guidelines for determining the employment status of a technical service specialist.

Statutory Employees.—If someone who works for you is not an employee under the common law rules explained above, do not withhold Federal income tax from his or her pay. Although the following persons may not be common law employees, they are considered employees for social security and Medicare purposes if tests 1 through 3 below are met. Persons in a and d are employees for FUTA tax purposes if tests 1 through 3 are met.

- a. An agent (or commission) driver who delivers food or beverages (other than milk) or laundry or dry cleaning for someone else.
 - b. A full-time life insurance salesperson.
- c. A homeworker who works by the guidelines of the person for whom the work is done, with materials furnished by and returned to that person or to someone that person designates.
- d. A traveling or city salesperson (other than an agent-driver or commission-driver) who works full time (except for sideline sales activities) for one firm or person getting orders from customers. The order must be for items for resale or use as supplies in the customer's business. The customers must be retailers, wholesalers, contractors, or operators of hotels, restaurants, or other businesses dealing with food or lodging.

Tests.—

- 1. It is understood from a service contract that the services will be performed by the person.
- 2. The person does not have a substantial investment in facilities (other than transportation) used to perform the services.
- 3. The services involve a continuing relationship with the person for whom they are performed.

Pub. 937 gives examples of the employeremployee relationship.

If you want the IRS to determine whether a worker is an employee, file Form SS-8, Determination of Employee Work Status for Purposes of Federal Employment Taxes and Income Tax Withholding.

Statutory Nonemployees.—Direct sellers and qualified real estate agents are by law considered nonemployees. They are instead treated as self-employed for income tax and employment tax purposes. See Pub. 937 for details on these two groups.

Treating Employees as Nonemployees.— You will be liable for income tax and employee social security and Medicare taxes if you don't deduct and withhold these taxes because you consider an employee as a nonemployee. See Internal Revenue Code section 3509 for details.

4. Employee's Social Security Number (SSN)

You must obtain each employee's name and SSN because you must enter them on Form W-2. If you do not provide the correct name and SSN, you may owe a penalty. Any employee without a social security card can get one by completing Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card. You can get this form at SSA offices or by calling 1-800-772-1213. If your employee has applied for an SSN but does not have one when you must file Form W-2, enter "Applied For" on the form. When the employee receives the SSN, file Form W-2c, Statement of Corrected Income and Tax Amounts, to show the employee's SSN.

Record the name and number of each employee exactly as they are shown on the employee's social security card. If the employee's name is not correct as shown on the card, including if the employee's name has changed due to marriage or divorce, the employee should request a new card from the SSA.

If your employee was given a new social security card to show his or her correct name and number after an adjustment to his or her alien residence status, correct your records and show the new information on Form W-2. If you filed Form W-2 for the same employee in prior years under the old name and SSN, file Form W-2c to correct the name and number. Advise the employee to contact the local SSA office about 6 months after the Form W-2c is filed to ensure that his or her records have been updated.

5. Taxable Wages

Wages subject to Federal employment taxes include all pay you give an employee for services performed. The pay may be in cash or in other forms. It includes salaries, vacation allowances, bonuses, commissions, and fringe benefits. It does not matter how you measure or make the payments.

See pages 15 through 20 for exceptions to wages. See section 6 for a discussion of tips. See Chapter III, section 2, for reporting other compensation not subject to withholding.

Value noncash pay (such as goods, lodging, and meals) by its fair market value. This kind of pay may be subject to tax and withholding. See pages 17 and 18.

Travel and Business Expenses.—Payments to your employee for travel and other necessary expenses of your business generally are taxable if (1) your employee is not required to or does not substantiate timely those expenses to you with receipts or other documentation, or (2) you advance an amount to your employee for business expenses and your employee is not required to or does not return timely any amount he or she does not use for business expenses. See What To Include on the 1993 Form W-2 in Chapter III, section 2, for more information.

Partially Exempt Employment.—If an employee spends half or more of his or her time in a pay period performing services subject to employment taxes, all the employee's pay in that pay period is taxable. If the employee spends less than half the time performing services subject to taxes, no pay in that pay period is subject to employment taxes.

Supplemental Unemployment Compensation Benefits.—Treat these benefits as wages for income tax withholding to the extent they are includible in your employee's gross income. This applies if you pay benefits to your employee because of his or her involuntary separation from the job under a plan to which you are a party. Involuntary separation includes a reduction in force or closing a plant or operation. It does not include separation because of disciplinary problems or because of age. Also see Rev. Rul. 90-72, 1990-2 C.B. 211.

Employee Stock Options.—There are two classes of stock options, statutory (covered by a specific Code provision) and nonstatutory. Generally, statutory stock options are not taxable to the employee either when the option is granted, or when it is exercised (unless the stock is disposed of in a disqualifying disposition). However, nonstatutory stock options normally are taxable to the employee as wages when the option is exercised (see Regulation section 1.83-7). These wages are subject to social security and Medicare taxes and income tax withholding.

Moving Expenses.—New moving expense rules apply to expenses incurred after 1993. Reimbursed and employer-paid qualified moving expenses (those that would otherwise be deductible by the employee) are not includible in employee's income unless the employer has knowledge that the employee deducted the expenses in a prior year. Reimbursed and employer-paid non-qualified moving expenses are includable in income and are subject to employment taxes and income tax withholding.

Under the new rules, certain moving expenses are now considered to be non-qualified expenses and are no longer deductible by the employee. These non-qualified expenses include costs related to the sale of an old residence and the purchase of a new one, expenses related to house hunting trips and living in temporary quarters near the new job. Meals are no longer deductible moving expenses. For more information on moving expenses for 1994, get Pub. 553, Highlights of 1993 Tax Changes. See page 22 for how to report moving expenses on Form W-2 for 1993.

Golden Parachutes.—Parachute payments (also called golden parachutes) are certain payments in the nature of compensation that corporations make to key individuals, often in excess of their usual compensation, when ownership or control of the corporation changes. Such payments may be subject to reporting and withholding requirements.

The golden parachute provision does not apply to payments made by a corporation that immediately before the change in ownership or control was (1) an S corporation or (2) a corporation that had no readily tradable securities. If (2) applies, shareholders must have consented to the payments. Excess parachute payments (defined in Code section 280G) are not deductible by the payer, and the recipient of the excess payments is subject to a 20% excise tax. If the excess parachute payment is made to an employee, you must withhold the 20% excise tax.

If you make the payments to an employee, see Chapter III, section 2, for instructions for reporting to the employee. If you make parachute payments to a nonemployee, use Form 1099-MISC for reporting. The parachute payments provision applies to payments made under agreements entered into renewed after June 14, 1984, in tax years ending after that date. For further information, see Internal Revenue Code sections 280G and 4999.

Payments to Nonresident Aliens.—In general, if you pay wages to nonresident aliens, you must withhold income tax (unless excepted by regulations), social security, and Medicare taxes as you would for a U.S. citizen. You must also give a Form W-2 to the nonresident alien and file it with the SSA. The wages are subject to FUTA tax as well. However, see the chart on page 15 for exceptions to these general rules.

In some cases, a Code section or a U.S. treaty provision will exempt payments to a nonresident alien from wages. These payments are not subject to regular income tax withholding. Form W-2 is not required in these cases. The payments, unless exempt from tax because of a Code or U.S. tax treaty provision, are subject to withholding at a flat 30% or lower treaty rate. You must report the payments and any withheld tax on Form 1042-S, Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding. Form 1042-S is sent to the IRS with Form 1042, Annual Withholding Tax Return for U.S. Source Income of Foreign Persons. You may have to make deposits of the withheld income tax, using Form 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupon. See Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations, for more information. For information on the requirement to file Forms 1042-S on magnetic media, see Pub. 1187.

Social Security Totalization Agreements.— The United States has entered into totalization agreements with several countries. Under the terms of these agreements, employees and employers who would otherwise have to pay social security taxes to both countries will only have to pay to one country. Thus, items shown as taxable for social security and Medicare in this booklet may be exempt if covered by a totalization agreement. Employees and employers who are exempt under an agreement are exempt from both the social security (6.2%) portion and the Medicare (1.45%) portion. At this time, we have agreements with Austria, Belgium, Canada, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. For more information about social security totalization agreements, contact the Social Security Administration, Office of International Policy, P.O. Box 17741, Baltimore, MD 21235. (See Rev. Procs. 80-56, 1980-2 C.B. 851, and 84-54, 1984-2 C.B. 489, for information on how to prove the exemption.)

Employee's Portion of Taxes Paid by Employer.—If you are not a household or agricultural employer and you pay your employee's social security and Medicare taxes without deducting them from the employee's pay, you must include the amount of the payments in the employee's wages for social security, Medicare, and FUTA taxes, and for income tax withholding. To properly calculate the wages and taxes in this situation, you must use the formula in Rev. Rul. 86-14, 1986-1 C.B. 304. Generally, in applying the formula, use the rates in effect in the year the wages are paid. See Pub. 937 for more information.

However, if you are a household employer in a private home or an agricultural employer, any employee social security and Medicare taxes you pay for an employee is additional income to the employee for income tax purposes. But it is not considered wages for social security, Medicare, and FUTA taxes.

Fringe Benefits

Unless the law says otherwise, you must include fringe benefits in an employee's gross income. The benefits are subject to income and employment taxes. Fringe benefits include cars you provide, flights on aircraft you provide, free or discounted commercial flights, vacations, discounts on property or services, memberships in country clubs or other social clubs, and tickets to entertainment or sporting events. In general, the amount you must include is the amount by which the fair market value of the benefits is more than the sum of what the employee paid for it plus any amount the law excludes. There are other special rules you and your employees may use to value certain fringe benefits. See Pub. 535, Business Expenses, and Regulations section 1.61-21 for more information.

Nontaxable Fringe Benefits.—Some fringe benefits are not taxable if certain conditions are met. Examples are:

- Services provided to your employees at no additional cost to you.
- Qualified employee discounts.
- Working condition fringes (including outplacement services under certain conditions).
- Minimal value fringes (including an occasional cab ride when an employee must work overtime, local transportation benefits provided because of unsafe conditions and unusual circumstances, and meals you provide at eating places you run for your employees if the meals are not furnished at below cost).
- Qualified transportation fringes subject to specified conditions and dollar limitations (including transportation in a commuter highway vehicle, any transit pass, and qualified parking).
- The use of on-premises athletic facilities.
- Reduced tuition for education.

However, services you provide at no additional cost to you, qualified employee discounts, meals at eating places you run for your employees, and reduced tuition provided to officers, owners, or highly paid employees are excluded from those individuals' income and the wage base only if the benefits are given to employees on a nondiscriminatory basis. For further information, including who is an officer, owner, or highly paid employee, see Pub. 535 and the regulations under Code section 132.

When Fringe Benefits Are Treated as Paid.—You may choose to treat certain noncash fringe benefits as paid by the pay period, or by the quarter, or on any other basis you choose as long as you treat the benefits as paid at least as often as once a year. You do not have to make a formal choice of payment dates or notify the IRS of the dates you choose. You do not have to make this choice for all employees. You may change methods as often as you like, as long as you treat all benefits provided in a calendar year as paid by December 31 of the cal-(However, see Special vear. Accounting Rule for Fringe Benefits Provided During November and December on page 6.) You may treat a single fringe benefit as paid on one or more dates in the same calendar year, even if the employee gets the entire benefit at one time. However, once you choose the payment dates, you must report the taxes on your return in the same tax period in which you treated them as paid. This election does not apply to a fringe benefit when real property or investment personal property is transferred.

Withholding on Fringe Benefits.—You may add the value of fringe benefits to regular wages for a payroll period and figure withholding taxes on the total, or you may withhold Federal income tax on the value of the fringe benefits at the flat 28% supplemental wage rate.

If you withhold less than the required amount of taxes from an employee in a calendar year but report the proper amount, you should ask the employee for the social security, Medicare, or railroad retirement and income taxes you paid on his or her behalf. You must recover income taxes before April 1 of the next year.

Election Not To Withhold Income Tax on Personal Use of a Highway Motor Vehicle.—You may choose not to withhold income tax on the value of an employee's personal use of a vehicle you provide. You must, however, withhold social security, Medicare, or railroad retirement taxes on the use of the vehicle. You do not have to make the choice for all employees. If you make the choice, you must do it in such a way that all affected employees will be aware of it. For example, you can include a notice with the employee's paycheck or display a notice. You may change methods at any time by notifying affected employees in a similar way. You must give notice by the later of January 31 of the year to which you want a different method to apply, or within 30 days after you first give a vehicle to the employee.

Depositing Taxes on Fringe Benefits.— Once you choose payment dates for fringe benefits, you must deposit taxes in the same deposit period you treat the fringe benefit as paid. To avoid a penalty, deposit the taxes following the general deposit rules for that deposit period. You may reasonably estimate the value of the fringe benefits provided on the date(s) you choose, for purposes of making your deposits on time.

You may claim a refund for overpayments or have them applied to your next employment tax return. If you deposit too little, you may be subject to the failure to deposit penalty. See section 11 for details.

When To Report Fringe Benefits.—In general, you must figure the value of fringe benefits no later than January 31 of the next year. If you provide a vehicle, you may either figure the actual value of the benefit for personal use for the whole calendar year or consider the employee's use of the vehicle during the year to be entirely personal and include 100% in the employee's income. See Fringe Benefits on page 23 for additional information on this option.

Special Accounting Rule for Fringe Benefits Provided During November and December.—You may choose to treat the value of certain noncash fringe benefits provided during November and December, or any shorter period, as paid in the next year. However, this applies only to those benefits you actually provided during November and December, not to those you merely treated as paid during those months. You may not use this rule to report moving expense reimbursement, expense allowances paid under nonaccountable plans, or taxable education reimbursements.

If you use this rule, you must notify each affected employee between the time of the employee's last paycheck of the calendar year and at or near the time you give Form W-2. If you use the special accounting rule, your employee must also use it for all purposes (e.g., for deductions related to the fringe benefit) and for the same period. You cannot use this rule for a fringe benefit when you transfer real property or investment personal property to your employee.

Employer "Line of Business" Requirement and Election.—In general, you can exclude only qualified employee discounts and services you provide to employees at no additional cost to you from the income of employees who perform substantial services in the line of business in which the benefits are offered for sale to your customers.

If you have more than one line of business, employees in your other lines of business are not entitled to nontaxable treatment of qualified employee discounts and services you provide at no additional cost to you. However, you can choose to consider all your employees to be in one line of business and to receive fringe benefits from that line of business. If you make this choice, you will be charged a 30% excise tax on the excess fringe benefits. This is the excess of the total value of these two types of fringe benefits provided during the calendar year over 1% of the total taxable compensation paid to all employees during the calendar year. You must report the tax on Form 5330, Return of Excise Taxes Related to Employee Benefit Plans, and it is not deductible. In general, this provision applies only to employment within the United States. For more information, see Code section 4977 and its regulations.

Note: If you include the value of a noncash fringe benefit in an employee's gross income, you cannot deduct this amount as compensation for services. You can deduct only what it cost you to provide the benefit.

Sick Pay

In general, sick pay is any amount you pay, under a plan you take part in, to an employee because of sickness or injury. These amounts are sometimes paid by a third party, such as an insurance company or employees' trust. In either case, these payments are subject to social security, Medicare, or railroad retirement (RRTA) taxes, and Federal unemployment (FUTA) taxes. The payments are also subject to income tax.

If you make the payments, withhold on the basis of the employee's Form W-4. Include payments subject to social security and Medicare taxes on lines 6a and 7 of Form 941. Report payments subject to RRTA taxes on Form CT-1, Employer's Annual Railroad Retirement and Unemployment Repayment Tax Return. Pay FUTA tax as you normally would for any other type of taxable wages. Include the amount of sick pay payments on line 1, Part I, of Form 940 or 940-EZ.

If a third party makes the payments, the employee may request income tax withholding by giving the third-party payer a Form W-4S, Request for Federal Income Tax Withholding From Sick Pay. Even though the third party makes the payments, you may be responsible for paying social security and Medicare taxes and reporting on Form W-2. See Pub. 952, Sick Pay Reporting, for details.

The following payments are not subject to social security, Medicare, RRTA, RURT, or FUTA taxes:

- 1. Payments received under a workmen's compensation law.
- 2. Payments, or portions of payments, attributable to the employee's contributions to a sick pay plan.
- 3. Payments received under the Railroad Retirement Act.
- 4. Payments of benefits under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act for an on-the-job injury.
- 5. Payments made more than 6 months after the last calendar month in which the employee worked.

6. Taxable Tips

Tips your employee receives are generally subject to withholding. Your employee must report cash tips to you by the 10th of the month after the month the tips are received. The report should include tips you paid over to the employee for charge customers and tips the employee received directly from customers. No report is required for months when tips are less than $20. Your employee reports the tips on Form 4070, Employee's Report of Tips to Employer, or on a similar statement. Both Forms 4070 and 4070-A, Employee's Daily Record of Tips, are included in Pub. 1244, Employee's Daily Record of Tips and Report to Employer.

The statement must be signed by the employee and must show the following:

- The employee's name, address, and social security number.
- Your name and address.
- The month or period the report covers.
- The total tips.

You must collect income tax, employee social security tax, and employee Medicare tax on the employee's tips. You can collect these taxes from the employee's wages or from other funds he or she makes available. (See Tips Treated as Supplemental Wages in section 7 for further information.) Stop collecting the employee social security tax when his or her wages and tips for the year reach the limit; collect the employee Medicare tax for the whole year on all wages and tips.

You are responsible for the employer social security tax on wages and tips until the wages (including tips) reach the limit. You must withhold income tax for the whole year on wages and tips.

File Form 941 to report withholding on tips. If, by the 10th of the month after the month you received an employee's report on tips, you don't have enough employee funds available to deduct the employee tax, you no longer have to collect it. Show any uncollected social security and Medicare taxes on Form W-2, on lines 6b and 7 of Form 941, and as an adjustment on line 9, Form 941. (See the instructions for Forms W-2 and 941.)

If an employee reports to you in writing $20 or more of tips in a month, they are subject to FUTA tax.

Allocated Tips.—If you operate a large food or beverage establishment, you must report allocated tips under certain circumstances. A large food or beverage establishment is one that provides food or beverages for consumption on the premises, where tipping is customary, and where there are normally more than 10 employees on a typical business day during the preceding year.

You must allocate tips among employees who receive them if the total tips reported to you during any payroll period are less than 8% (or an approved lower rate) of the establishment's gross receipts for that period. Use Form 8027 to report allocated tips.

Generally, you must allocate to tipped employees an amount equal to the difference between the total tips reported by the employees and 8% (or an approved lower rate) of gross receipts (less carryout sales and sales with at least a 10% service charge added). You or a majority of your employees may request a lower percentage rate, but not below 2%. See Rev. Proc. 86-21, 1986-1 C.B. 560, for details.

The tip allocation may be made using one of three methods—hours worked, gross receipts, or good faith agreement. For information about these allocation methods and further information, including the requirement to file Forms 8027 on magnetic media if 250 or more forms are filed, see the separate Instructions for Form 8027.

Do not withhold income, social security, or Medicare taxes on allocated tips.

7. Supplemental Wages

Supplemental wages are compensation paid to an employee in addition to the employee's regular wages. They include, but are not limited to, bonuses, commissions, overtime pay, accumulated sick leave, severance pay, awards, prizes, back pay and retroactive pay increases for current employees, and payments for nondeductible moving expenses. Other payments subject to the supplemental wage rules include taxable fringe benefits and expense allowances paid under a nonaccountable plan.

If you pay supplemental wages with regular wages but do not specify the amount of each, withhold income tax as if the total were a single payment for a regular payroll period.

If you pay supplemental wages separately (or combine them in a single payment and specify the amount of each), the income tax withholding method depends partly on whether you withhold income tax from your employee's regular wages:

- If you withhold income tax from an employee's regular wages, you can use one of the following methods for the supplemental wages:
 - a. Withhold a flat 28%.
- b. Add the supplemental and regular wages for the most recent payroll period this year. Then figure the income tax withholding as if the total were a single payment. Subtract the tax already withheld from the regular wages. Withhold the remaining tax from the supplemental wages.
- If you did not withhold income tax from the employee's regular wages, use method b. (This would occur, for example, when the value of the employee's withholding allowances claimed on Form W-4 is more than the wages.)

Regardless of the method you use to withhold income tax on supplemental wages, including bonuses, supplemental wages are subject to social security and Medicare taxes.

Tips Treated as Supplemental Wages.— Withhold the income tax on tips from wages or from other funds the employee makes available. If an employee receives regular wages and reports tips, figure income tax as if the tips were supplemental wages. If you have not withheld income tax from the regular wages, add the tips to the regular wages. Then withhold income tax on the total. If you withheld income tax from the regular wages, you can withhold on the tips by method a or b above.

Vacation Pay.—Vacation pay is subject to withholding as if it were a regular wage payment. When vacation pay is in addition to regular wages for the vacation period, treat it as a supplemental wage payment. If the vacation pay is for a time longer than your usual payroll period, spread it over the pay periods for which you pay it.

Back Pay Under a Statute.—Treat back pay as wages and withhold and pay employment taxes as appropriate. However, if back pay was awarded by a court or government agency to enforce a worker's protection law, special rules apply for filing Forms W-2 with the SSA for these payments. Contact your SSA office for details.

8. Payroll Period

The payroll period is that period of service for which you usually pay wages. When you have a regular payroll period, withhold income tax for that time period even if your employee does not work the full period.

When you don't have a payroll period, withhold the tax as if you paid wages on a daily or miscellaneous payroll period. Figure the number of days (including Sundays and holidays) in the period covered by the wage payment. If the wages are unrelated to a specific length of time (e.g., commissions paid on completion of a sale), count back the number of days from the payment period to the latest of:

- a. The last wage payment made during the same calendar year,
- b. The date employment began, if during the same calendar year, or
 - c. January 1 of the same year.

When you pay an employee for a period of less than 1 week, and the employee signs a statement under penalties of perjury that he or she is not working for any other employer during the same calendar week for wages subject to withholding, figure withholding based on a weekly payroll period. If the employee later begins to work for another employer for wages subject to withholding, the employee must notify you within 10 days. You should then figure withholding based on the daily or miscellaneous period.

9. Withholding From Employees

Form W-4.—To know how much income tax to withhold from employees' wages, you should have a Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, on file for each employee. Ask all new employees to give you a signed Form W-4 when they start work. Make the form effective with the first wage payment. If a new employee does not give you a completed Form W-4, withhold tax as if he or she is single, with no withholding allowances. A Form W-4 remains in effect until the employee gives you a new one. If an employee gives you a Form W-4 that replaces an existing Form W-4, begin withholding no later than the start of the first payroll period ending on or after the 30th day from the date you received the replacement Form W-4. For exceptions, see this page for exemption from income tax withholding and forms that must be sent to the IRS, and page 8 for invalid Forms W-4.

Note: A Form W-4 that makes a change for the next calendar year will not take effect in the current calendar year.

Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, contains detailed instructions for completing Form W-4. Along with Form W-4, you may wish to order Pub. 505 and Pub. 919, Is My Withholding Correct for 1994?

Withholding.—To determine income tax withholding, take the following into account:

- a. Wages paid, including tips reported.
- b. Marital status.—The withholding tables are different for single and for married employees. On Form W-4, a married employee may choose to have withholding at the higher single rate. A nonresident alien is considered single for withholding tax purposes.

An employee whose spouse has died during the year can show status as Married for the year on Form W-4. An employee whose spouse died in either of the two preceding tax years can claim Married status if:

1. The employee's home is maintained as the main household of a child or stepchild for whom the employee can claim an exemption; and

2. The employee could file a joint return with the decedent in the year of the spouse's death.

An employee who qualifies as a head of household is considered single for withholding purposes.

c. Withholding allowances.—The number of withholding allowances claimed on Form W-4 may be different from the number of exemptions claimed on the employee's tax return. The process of determining the correct number of withholding allowances begins with the number of personal exemptions the employee expects to claim on his or her tax return. This number is then increased or decreased based on the employee's financial situation, as outlined on the Form W-4 worksheets.

Employees may claim fewer withholding allowances than they are entitled to claim. They may wish to claim fewer allowances to generate a larger tax refund or to offset other sources of taxable income that are not subject to adequate withholding.

d. Exemption from income tax withholding for eligible persons.—An employee may claim exemption from income tax withholding because he or she had no income tax liability last year and expects none this year. However, the wages may still be subject to social security and Medicare taxes.

An employee must file a Form W-4 each year by February 15 to claim exemption from withholding. If the employee does not give you a new Form W-4, withhold tax as if the employee is single with zero withholding allowances.

An employee cannot claim exemption from withholding if (1) his or her income exceeds $600 and includes unearned income (e.g., interest and dividends), and (2) another person can claim the employee as a dependent on their tax return.

Caution: Students are subject to withholding the same as any other employee. They are not exempt because of student status.

Withholding on Nonresident Aliens.— Employers should remind nonresident aliens when completing Form W-4 that to avoid underwithholding of income taxes they should (1) not claim exemption from income tax withholding; (2) request withholding as if they are single, regardless of their actual marital status; and (3) claim only one allowance. However, if the nonresident alien is a resident of Canada, Mexico, Japan, or Korea, he or she may claim one allowance for each dependent. For more information, see Pub. 515.

Sending Certain Forms W-4 to the IRS.—You must send to the IRS copies of certain Forms W-4 received during the quarter from employees still employed by you at the end of the quarter. Send copies when the employee (1) claims more than 10 withholding allowances or (2) claims exemption from withholding and his or her wages would normally be $200 or more per week. You are not required to send any other Forms W-4 unless the IRS notifies you in writing to do so.

Send in Forms W-4 that meet either of the above conditions each quarter with Form 941. (However, if your Form 941 is filed on magnetic media, you must send your paper Forms W-4 to the appropriate service center with a cover letter.) Complete boxes 8 and 10 on any Forms W-4 you send in. You may use box 9 to identify the office responsible for processing the employee's payroll information. Also send copies of any written statements from employees in support of the claims made on Forms W-4. Send these statements even if the Forms W-4 are not in effect at the end of the quarter. You can send them to your Internal Revenue Service Center more often if you like. If you do so, include a cover letter giving your name, address, employer identification number, and the number of forms included. In certain cases, the IRS may notify you in writing that you must submit specified Forms W-4 more frequently to your district director separate from your Form 941.

Base withholding on the Forms W-4 that you send in unless the IRS notifies you in writing that you should do otherwise. If the IRS notifies you about a particular employee, base withholding on the number of withholding allowances shown in the IRS notice. You will get a copy of the notice to give to the employee. Also, the employee will get a similar notice directly from the IRS. If the employee later gives you a new Form W-4, follow it only if (1) exempt status is not claimed or (2) the number of withholding allowances is equal to or fewer than the number in the IRS notice. Otherwise, disregard it and do not submit it to the IRS. Continue to follow the IRS notice.

If the employee prepares a new Form W-4 explaining any difference with the IRS notice, he or she may either submit it to the IRS or to you. If submitted to you, send the Form W-4 and explanation to the IRS office shown in the notice. Continue to withhold based on the notice until the IRS tells you to follow the new Form W-4.

Filing Form W-4 on Magnetic Media.—Form W-4 information may be filed with the IRS on magnetic media. If you wish to file on magnetic media, you must submit Form 4419, Application for Filing Information Returns Magnetically/ Electronically, to request authorization. See Pub. 1245, Specifications for Filing Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, on Magnetic Tape, and 5½- and 3½-Inch Magnetic Diskettes. To obtain additional information about magnetic media filing, call the IRS Martinsburg Computing Center at (304) 263-8700.

Note: Any Forms W-4 with employee supporting statements that you must submit to the IRS must be submitted on paper. They cannot be submitted on magnetic media.

Invalid Forms W-4.—Any unauthorized change or addition to Form W-4 makes it invalid. This includes taking out any language by which the employee certifies that the form is correct. A Form W-4 is also invalid if, by the date an employee gives it to you, he or she indicates in any way that it is false.

When you get an invalid Form W-4, do not use it to figure withholding. Tell the employee it is invalid and ask for another one. If the employee does not give you a valid one, withhold taxes as if the employee were single and claiming no withholding allowances. However, if you have an earlier Form W-4 for this worker that is valid, withhold as you did before.

Amounts Exempt From Levy on Wages, Salary, and Other Income.—If you receive a Notice of Levy on Wages, Salary, and Other Income (Forms 668W or 668W(c)), you must withhold amounts as described in the instructions for these forms. Pub. 1494, Table for Figuring Amount Exempt From Levy on Wages, Salary, and Other Income (Forms 668W and 668W(c)), shows the exempt amount. If a levy issued in a prior year is still in effect, use the current year Pub. 1494 to compute the exempt amount.

10. Figuring Withholding

There are several ways to figure income tax withholding:

- Percentage method (see pages 29-30).
- Wage bracket tables (see pages 31–50).

Also see page 27 for directions on how to use the tables for employees claiming more than 10 allowances.

- Alternative formula tables for percentage withholding (see Pub. 493, Alternative Tax Withholding Methods and Tables).
- Wage bracket percentage method withholding tables (see Pub. 493).

Employers with automated payroll systems will find the two alternative formula tables and the two alternative wage bracket percentage method tables useful.

- Combined income, employee social security, and employee Medicare tax table (see Pub. 493).
- Annualized wages method (see Pub. 493).
- Average estimated wages method (see Pub. 493).
- Cumulative wages and part-year employment methods (see Pub. 493). These may be used if your employee requests that you use them, and you agree to this.
- Other alternative methods (see page 27).

If an employee wants additional tax withheld, have the employee show the extra amount on Form W-4, line 6.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes, Employer's and Employee's Share.—For wages paid in 1994, the social security tax rate is 6.2% and the Medicare tax rate is 1.45% for both the employer and the employee. You can multiply each wage payment by these percentages or use the tables on pages 51 through 52. You can use the amounts in the boxes in the lower right corners of the tables on pages 52 and 53 if the wage payment is $100 or more. For example, the social security tax on a wage payment of $355 would be $22.01 ($18.60 + $3.41) each. The Medicare tax would be $5.15 ($4.35 + $.80) each.

Employee wages are subject to social security and Medicare taxes regardless of the employee's age, or whether he or she is receiving social security benefits.

11. Depositing Taxes

In general, you must deposit income tax withheld and both the employer and employee social security and Medicare taxes (minus any advance EIC payments) by mailing or delivering a check, money order, or cash to an authorized financial institution or Federal Reserve bank.

You may make payments with your return instead of depositing if:

- Your net tax liability for the return period (line 13 on Form 941) is less than $500, or
- You are making a payment in accordance with the Accuracy of Deposits (98% Rule) provision in the deposit rules discussed on page 11. This amount may exceed $500. Caution: Only monthly schedule depositors are allowed to make this underpayment with the return.

Separate Deposit Requirements for Non-payroll (Form 945) Tax Liabilities.—Separate deposits are required for nonpayroll income tax withholding on payments made after December 31, 1993. DO NOT combine deposits for Form 941 and Form 945 tax liabilities. Generally, the deposit rules for nonpayroll liabilities are the same as discussed below. See Chapter II, section 3, for details.

Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) Coupon.—Use Form 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupon, to make the deposits. Do not use the deposit coupons to pay delinquent taxes assessed by the IRS. Send those payments directly to your Internal Revenue Service Center with a copy of any related notice the IRS sent you.

For new employers, the IRS will send you an FTD coupon book 5 to 6 weeks after you receive an employer identification number (EIN). (Apply for an EIN on Form SS-4.) The IRS will keep track of the number of FTD coupons you use and automatically will send you additional coupons when you need them. If you do not receive your resupply of FTD coupons, contact your local IRS office. You can have the FTD coupon books sent to a branch office, tax preparer, or service bureau that is making your deposits by showing that address on Form 8109C, FTD Address Change, which is in the FTD coupon book. (Filing Form 8109C will not change your address of record; it will change only the address where the FTD coupons are mailed.) The FTD coupons will be preprinted with your name, address, and EIN. They have entry boxes for indicating the type of tax and the tax period for which the deposit is made.

It is very important to clearly mark the correct type of tax and tax period on each FTD coupon. This information is used by the IRS to credit your account. The Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) Checklist near the end of this booklet illustrates how to complete the FTD coupon properly.

If you have branch offices depositing taxes, give them FTD coupons and complete instructions so they can deposit the taxes when due.

Please use only your FTD coupons. If you use anyone else's FTD coupon, you may be subject to the failure to deposit penalty. This is because your account will be underpaid by the amount of the deposit credited to the other person's account. See Penalties on page 9 for details.

How To Make Deposits.—Mail or deliver each FTD coupon and a single payment covering the taxes to be deposited to a qualified depositary for Federal taxes or to the Federal Reserve bank or branch (FRB) serving your area. Follow the instructions in the FTD coupon book. Make the check or money order payable to the depositary or FRB where you make your deposit. To help ensure proper crediting of your account, include your EIN, the type of tax (e.g., Form 941), and tax period to which the payment applies on your check or money order.

Reporting agents.—Reporting agents who make deposits for their clients should see Rev. Proc. 89-48, 1989-2 C.B. 599.

Deposits at Depositaries.—Authorized depositaries must accept cash, a postal money order drawn to the order of the depositary, or a check or draft drawn on and to the order of the depositary. You can deposit taxes with a check drawn on another financial institution only if the depositary is willing to accept that form of payment.

Note: Be sure that the financial institution where you make deposits is an authorized depositary. Deposits made at an unauthorized institution may be subject to the failure to deposit penalty.

Deposits at FRBs.—If you want to make a deposit at an FRB, make the deposit with the FRB serving your area. Deposits may be subject to the failure to deposit penalty if the payment is not considered an immediate credit item on the day it is received by the FRB. A personal check, including one drawn on a business account, is not an immediate credit item. To avoid a penalty, deposits made by personal checks drawn on other financial institutions must be made in advance of the deposit due date to allow time for check clearance. To be considered timely, the funds must be available to the FRB on the deposit due date before the FRB's daily cutoff deadline. Contact your local FRB to obtain information concerning check clearance and cutoff schedules.

Depositing on Time.—The IRS determines if deposits are on time by the date they are received by an authorized depositary or FRB. However, a deposit received by the authorized depositary or FRB after the due date will be considered timely if the taxpayer establishes that it was mailed in the United States at least 2 days before the due date. Note: If you are required to deposit any taxes more than once a month, any deposit of $20,000 or more must be made by its due date to be timely.

Depositing Without an EIN.—If you have applied for an EIN but have not received it, and you must make a deposit, make the deposit with your Internal Revenue Service Center. Do not make the deposit at an authorized depositary or FRB. Make it payable to the Internal Revenue Service and show on it your name (as shown on Form SS-4), address, kind of tax, period covered, and date you applied for an EIN. Attach an explanation to the deposit. Do not use Form 8109-B in this situation.

Depositing Without Form 8109.—If you do not have the preprinted Form 8109, you may use Form 8109-B to make deposits. Form 8109-B is an over-the-counter FTD coupon that is not preprinted with your identifying information. It is available only at your local IRS office. Be sure to have your EIN ready when you contact the office. The phone number for your local IRS office is listed in your telephone directory. You will not be able to obtain this form by calling the general 1-800-TAX-FORM number.

Use Form 8109-B to make deposits only

- You are a new entity and you have been assigned an EIN, but you have not received your initial supply of Forms 8109. The Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) Checklist near the end of this booklet shows how to complete Form 8109-B; or
- You have not received your resupply of preprinted Forms 8109.

Deposit Record.—For your records, a stub is provided with each FTD coupon in the coupon book. The FTD coupon itself will not be returned. It is used to credit your account. Your check, bank receipt, or money order is your receipt.

How To Claim Credit for Overpayments.—
If you deposited more than the right amount of taxes for a quarter, you can request on Form 941 for that quarter to have the overpayment refunded or applied as a credit to your next return. Do not ask the depositary or FRB to request a refund from the IRS for you.

Penalties.—Penalties may apply if you do not make required deposits on time, you make deposits at an unauthorized financial institution, you pay directly to the IRS, or you pay with your return (amounts that may be paid with a return are limited). The penalties do not apply if any failure to make a proper and timely deposit was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. For amounts not properly or timely deposited, the penalty rates are:

- 2% Deposits made 1 to 5 days late.
- 5% Deposits made 6 to 15 days late.
- 10% Deposits made 16 or more days late. Also applies to amounts paid to the IRS within 10 days of the date of the first notice the IRS sent you asking for the tax due.
- 10% Deposits made at unauthorized financial institutions or directly to the IRS (but see Depositing Without an EIN earlier).
- 15% Amounts still unpaid more than 10 days after the date of the first notice the IRS sent you asking for the tax due or the day on which you receive notice and demand for immediate payment, whichever is earlier.

Order in Which Deposits Are Applied.— Tax deposits are applied first to satisfy any past due underdeposits for the quarter, with the oldest underdeposit satisfied first.

Example: Employer A is required to make a deposit of $1,000 on February 15 and $1,500 on March 15. A does not make the deposit on February 15. On March 15, A deposits $1,700 assuming that he has paid his March deposit in full and applied $200 to the late February deposit. However, because deposits are applied first to past due underdeposits in due date order, $1,000 of the March 15 deposit is applied to the late February deposit. The remaining $700 is applied to the March 15 deposit. Therefore, in addition to an underdeposit of $1,000 for February 15, A has an underdeposit for March 15 of $800. Penalties will be applied to both underdeposits as explained above.

Separate Accounting When Deposits Are Not Made or Withheld Taxes Are Not Paid.—Separate accounting may be required if you do not pay over withheld employee social security, Medicare, or income taxes; deposit required taxes; make required payments; or file tax returns. In this case, you would receive written notice from the district director requiring you to deposit taxes in a special trust account for the U.S. Government. You would also have to file monthly tax returns on Form 941-M, Employer's Monthly Federal Tax Return.

When To Deposit

There are two deposit schedules—monthly or semiweekly—for determining when you deposit Federal employment and withholding taxes (other than FUTA taxes). The IRS will notify you each November whether you are a monthly or semiweekly depositor for the coming calendar year. The rules apply to social security and Medicare tax and Federal income tax withheld on wages, tips, and sick pay. Similar rules apply for Federal income tax withholding for nonpayroll items such as backup withholding and withholding on pensions, annuities, and gambling winnings (see page 21 for details). These rules do not apply to tax required to be reported on Forms 940 or 942.

Your deposit schedule for a calendar year is determined from the total taxes reported on your Form 941 in a four-quarter lookback period—July 1 through June 30—as shown in the chart below. If you reported $50,000 or less of employment taxes for the lookback period, you are a monthly depositor; if you reported more than $50,000, you are a semiweekly depositor. There are two exception rules—the $500 rule and the $100,000 rule. The deposit rules and exceptions are discussed in the following sections.

Transition Rule for 1993.—You were allowed to continue using the old deposit rules during 1993 while you converted your deposit system to the new rules which were effective January 1, 1993. Your conversion to the new rules, however, must be completed by January 1, 1994.

Monthly Deposit Schedule Rule

Under the monthly rule, employment and other taxes withheld on payments made during a calendar month must be deposited by the 15th day of the following month. An employer is a monthly depositor for a calendar year if the total employment taxes for the four quarters in the lookback period were $50,000 or less.

Monthly depositors should not file Form 941 on a monthly basis. Do not file Form 941-M, Employer's Monthly Federal Tax Return, unless you are instructed to do so by an IRS representative.

New Employers.—During the first calendar year of your business, your tax liability for each quarter in the lookback period is considered to be zero. Therefore, you are a monthly depositor for the first year of your business (but see the $100,000 One-Day Rule exception below).

Semiweekly Deposit Schedule Rule

An employer is a semiweekly depositor for a calendar year if the total employment taxes during its lookback period were more than $50,000. Under the semiweekly rule, employment and other taxes withheld on payments made on Wednesday, Thursday, and/or Friday must be deposited by the following Wednesday. Amounts accumulated on payments made on Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and/or Tuesday must be deposited by the following Friday.

Wednesday, Thursday, and/or	Following Wednesday

Friday Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and/or Tuesday

Payment Days/Deposit Periods

Following Friday

Deposit By

If a quarterly return period ends on a day other than Tuesday or Friday, employment taxes accumulated on the days covered by the return period just ending are subject to one deposit obligation, and employment taxes accumulated on the days covered by the new return period are subject to a separate deposit obligation. For example, if one quarterly return period ends on Thursday and a new quarter begins on Friday, employment taxes accumulated on Wednesday and Thursday are subject to one deposit obligation and taxes accumulated on Friday are subject to a separate obligation. Separate Forms 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupons, are required for each deposit because two different quarters are affected. Be sure to mark the quarter for which the deposit is made on each Form 8109.

Example of Monthly and Semiweekly Rules

Employer A reported employment tax liability on Form 941 as follows:

1994 Lookback Period

4th	Quarter Quarter	1992	-	$12,000 $12,000
	Quarter Quarter			$12,000 $12,000
				$48,000

1995 Lookback Period

3rd	Quarter	1993	_	$15,000
	Quarter			$15,000
1st	Quarter	1994	_	$15,000
2nd	Quarter	1994	_	$15,000

$60,000

Employer A is a monthly depositor for 1994 because its tax liability for the four quarters in its lookback period (3rd quarter 1992 through 2nd quarter 1993) was not more than $50,000. However, for 1995, Employer A must follow the semiweekly rule described above because A's liability exceeded $50,000 for the four quarters in its lookback period (3rd quarter 1993 through 2nd quarter 1994).

Application of Monthly and Semiweekly Rules

The terms monthly depositor and semiweekly depositor do not refer to how often your business pays its employees, or even how often you are required to make deposits. The terms identify which set of rules you must follow when a tax liability arises (e.g., when you have a payday). The deposit rules are based on the dates wages are paid; not on when payroll liabilities are accrued.

Monthly Rule Example: Employer A is a seasonal employer who has a monthly deposit schedule. It paid wages each of the four Fridays during January but did not pay any wages during February. Under the monthly rule, Employer A must deposit the combined tax liabilities for the four January paydays by February 15. Employer A does not have a deposit requirement for February (due by March 15) because no wages were paid and, therefore, it did not have a tax liability for the month.

Semiweekly Rule Example: Employer B, who has a semiweekly deposit schedule, pays wages once each month on the last day of the month. Although Employer B has a semiweekly deposit schedule, it will deposit just once a month because it pays wages only once a month. The deposit, however, will be made under the semiweekly deposit rule as follows: Employer B's tax liability for the January 31, 1994 (Monday) payday must be deposited by February 4, 1994 (Friday). Under the semiweekly deposit rule, liabilities arising on Saturday through Tuesday must be deposited by the following Friday.

Deposits on Banking Days Only

If a deposit is required to be made on a day that is not a banking day, the deposit is considered timely if it is made by the close of the next banking day. For example, if a deposit is required to be made on a Friday and Friday is not a banking day, the deposit will be considered timely if it is made by the following Monday.

A special rule is provided for semiweekly depositors that allows these depositors at least 3 banking days to make a deposit. That is, if any of the 3 weekdays after the end of a semiweekly period is a banking holiday, they will have one additional banking day to deposit. For example, if a semiweekly depositor accumulated taxes for payments made on Friday and the following Monday is not a banking day, the deposit normally due on Wednesday may be made on Thursday (allowing 3 banking days to make the deposit).

$500 Rule

If an employer accumulates less than a $500 tax liability during a quarter, no deposits are required and this liability may be paid with the tax return for the quarter. However, if you are unsure that you will accumulate less than $500, deposit under the appropriate rules so that you will not be subject to failure to deposit penalties.

$100,000 One-Day Rule

If the total accumulated tax reaches $100,000 or more on any day during a deposit period, it must be deposited by the next banking day, whether an employer is a monthly or semiweekly depositor. For monthly depositors, the deposit period is a calendar month. The deposit periods for a semiweekly depositor are Wednesday through Friday and Saturday through Tuesday.

For purposes of the $100,000 rule, do not continue accumulating employment tax liability after the end of a deposit period. For example, if a semiweekly depositor has accumulated a liability of $95,000 on a Tuesday (of a Saturday-through-Tuesday deposit period) and accumulated a $10,000 liability on Wednesday, the $100,000 one-day rule does not apply. Thus, $95,000 must be deposited by Friday and $10,000 must be deposited by the following Wednesday.

In addition, once you accumulate at least $100,000 in a deposit period, stop accumulating at the end of that day and begin to accumulate anew on the next day. For example, Employer C is a semiweekly depositor. On Monday, C accumulates taxes of $110,000 and must deposit this amount on Tuesday, the next banking day. On Tuesday, C accumulates additional taxes of $30,000. Because the $30,000 is not added to the previous $110,000 and is less than $100,000, C must deposit the $30,000 by Friday following the semiweekly deposit rule.

If a monthly depositor accumulates a $100,000 employment tax liability on any day, it becomes a semiweekly depositor on the next day and remains so for at least the remainder of the calendar year and for the following calendar year.

Example of $100,000 One-Day Rule.-Employer B started its business on February 1, 1994. On February 9, it paid wages for the first time and accumulated a tax liability of $60,000. On February 10, Employer B paid wages and accumulated a liability of $40,000, bringing its accumulated employment tax liability to $100,000. Because this was the first year of its business, the tax liability for its lookback period is considered to be zero, and it would be a monthly depositor based on the lookback rules. Howsince Employer B accumulated $100,000 on February 10, it became a semiweekly depositor on February 11. It will be a semiweekly depositor for the remainder of 1994 and for 1995. Employer B is required to deposit the $100,000 by February 11, the next banking day.

Adjustments and the Lookback Rule

Determine your tax liability for the quarters in the lookback period based on the tax liability as originally reported. If you made adjustments to correct errors on previously filed employment tax returns, these adjustments do not affect the amount of tax liability for purposes of the lookback rule. If you report adjustments on your current employment tax return to correct errors on prior period returns, include these adjustments as part of your tax liability for the current quarter. If you filed Form 843 to claim a refund for a prior period overpayment, your tax liability does not change for either the prior period or the current period quarter for purposes of the lookback rule.

Example: An employer originally reported a tax liability of $45,000 for the four quarters in the lookback period ending June 30, 1993. The employer discovered during January 1994 that the tax during one of the lookback period quarters was understated by $10,000 and corrected this error with an adjustment on the 1994 first quarter return. This employer would be a monthly depositor for 1994 since the lookback period tax liabilities are based on the amounts originally reported and they were less than $50,000. The $10,000 adjustment would be treated as part of the 1994 first quarter tax liability.

Accuracy of Deposits (98% Rule)

You will be considered to have satisfied the deposit requirements if you deposit timely at least 98% of your tax liability or if any deposit shortfall does not exceed $100. No deposit penalties will be applied if the shortfall is deposited by the shortfall makeup date as follows:

- Monthly Depositor—Deposit or pay the shortfall with your return by the due date of the Form 941 for the period in which the shortfall occurred. You may pay the shortfall with Form 941 even if the amount exceeds $500
- Semiweekly Depositor—Deposit by the first Wednesday or Friday, whichever is earlier, falling on or after the 15th day of the month following the month in which the shortfall occurred. For example, if a semiweekly depositor has a shortfall during January 1994, the shortfall makeup date is February 16, 1994 (Wednesday).

Depositing Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Taxes

FUTA Amount To Deposit.—For deposit purposes, figure FUTA tax quarterly. Determine your FUTA tax by multiplying by .008 that part of the first $7,000 paid to each employee during the quarter. The $7,000 amount is the Federal wage base. Your state wage base may be different. If any part of the amount paid is exempt from state unemployment taxes, you may deposit an amount more than the .008 rate. For example, in certain states, wages paid to corporate officers, certain payments of sick pay by unions, and certain fringe benefits, are exempt from unemployment tax. Refer to section 14 of this chapter for more information.

Employers Not Required To Deposit.—If your total FUTA tax for the year is $100 or less, you do not have to deposit the tax. Pay your FUTA tax with your Form 940 or Form 940-EZ.

Employers Required To Deposit.—If your liability for any of the calendar year quarters of 1994 is over $100 (including any undeposited amount from any earlier quarter), you must make deposits in an authorized depositary using Form 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupon (see page 8 for details).

If the undeposited amount is $100 or less, you may carry it to the next quarter. If your liability for the 4th quarter (plus any undeposited amount from any earlier quarter) is over $100, deposit the entire amount by the due date of Form 940 or Form 940-EZ (January 31). If it is $100 or less, you can either make a deposit or pay it with your Form 940 or Form 940-EZ by its due date.

When To Deposit.—Deposit the FUTA tax by the last day of the first month after the quarter ends.

12. Filing the Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return (Form 941)

Each quarter, all employers who are subject to income tax withholding (including withholding on sick pay and supplemental unemployment benefits) or social security and Medicare taxes must file Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return. However, the following exceptions apply:

- 1. Seasonal employers who no longer file for quarters when they regularly have no tax liability because they have paid no wages.—To alert the IRS that you will not have to file a return for one or more quarters during the year, mark the Seasonal employer box above line 1 on Form 941. The IRS will mail two Forms 941 to the seasonal filer once a year after March 1. The preprinted label will not include the date the guarter ended. You must enter the date the quarter ended when you file the return. The IRS will generally not inquire about unfiled returns if at least one taxable return is filed each year. However, you must mark the Seasonal employer box on every quarterly return you file. Otherwise, the IRS will expect a return to be filed for each quarter.
- 2. Household employers reporting social security and Medicare taxes and/or withheld income tax.—Report these on Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.
- 3. Employers reporting wages for employees in American Samoa, Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, or the Virgin Islands.—If the employees are not subject to U.S. income tax withholding, use Form 941-SS. Employers in Puerto Rico use Form 941-PR.
- 4. Agricultural employers reporting social security and Medicare taxes and withheld income tax.—Report these on Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees.
- 5. Form 941E, Quarterly Return of Withheld Federal Income Tax and Medicare Tax, will be eliminated after the fourth quarter of 1993. Previous filers of Form 941E will be required to report any employment tax and withholding from wages on Form 941 beginning in the first quarter of 1994. Income tax withholding on nonpayroll items and backup withholding must be reported on the new Form 945 and deposited separately. See Chapter II for details.

When To File.—Due dates for returns are:

Due Dates

Quarter	Ending	Due Date

AprMay-June	June 30	July 31
July-AugSept.	Sept. 30	Oct. 31
OctNovDec.	Dec. 31	Jan. 31

If you deposited all taxes when due for the quarter, you may file the return by the 10th day of the month following the due date.

Where To File.—The addresses are listed in the Form 941 instructions. Please note that there may be different addresses for filing returns, depending on whether you file with or without a remittance.

Magnetic Tape Filing of Form 941.— Reporting agents filing Forms 941 for groups of taxpayers can file them on magnetic tape. For more information, see Pub. 1264, Magnetic Tape Reporting of Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return.

Penalties.—For each whole or part month a return is not filed when required (disregarding any extensions of the filing deadline), there is a penalty of 5% of the unpaid tax due with that return. The maximum penalty is 25%. Also, for each whole or part month the tax is paid late (disregarding any extensions of the payment deadline), a penalty of 0.5% of the amount of tax generally applies. The maximum for this penalty is also 25%. The penalties will not be charged if there is an acceptable reason for failing to file or pay.

Trust Fund Recovery Penalty.—If income, social security, and Medicare taxes that must be withheld are not withheld or are not paid to the IRS, the trust fund recovery penalty may apply. The penalty is the full amount of the unpaid trust fund tax. This penalty may apply to you if these unpaid taxes cannot be immediately collected from the employer or business.

The trust fund recovery penalty may be imposed on all persons who are determined by the IRS to be responsible for collecting, accounting for, and paying over these taxes, and who acted willfully in not doing so.

A responsible person can be an officer or employee of a corporation, a partner or employee of a partnership, an accountant, a volunteer director/trustee, or an employee of a sole proprietorship. A responsible person also may include one who signs checks for the business or otherwise has authority to cause the spending of business funds.

Willfully means voluntarily, consciously, and intentionally. A responsible person acts willfully if the person knows the required actions are not taking place.

Hints on Filing.—Do not report more than one calendar quarter on a return.

Use the preaddressed form mailed to you. If you don't have the form, get one from any IRS office in time to file the return when due. If you use a form that is not preaddressed, please show your name and EIN on it. Be sure they are exactly as they appeared on earlier returns. See the instructions for Form 941 for suggestions for preparing the form.

If you go out of business, you should file a final return for the last quarter in which wages are paid. If you continue to pay wages or other compensation for quarters following termination of your business, you are required to file returns for those quarters. See the Form 941 instructions for details on how to file a final return.

Successor Employer.—If you received all or most of the property used in the trade or business of another employer, or a unit of that employer's trade or business, you may include the wages the other employer paid to your employees when you figure the annual wage limit for social security. See Regulations section 31.3121(a)(1)-1 for more Regulation. Also see Rev. Proc. 84-77, 1984-2 C.B. 753, for the procedures used in filing returns in a predecessor-successor situation.

Common Paymaster.—For information on concurrent employment by related corporations with a common paymaster, see Regulations section 31.3121(s)-1.

Adjustments.—Form 941 explains how to correct mistakes in reporting withheld income, social security, and Medicare taxes, including the use of Form 941c. Generally, you can adjust social security and Medicare taxes reported on Forms 941 for previous quarters (of current and prior years) on your current Form 941. Income tax withholding adjustments for prior quarters can also be made on your current Form 941, but only for previous quarters during the same calendar year.

You cannot adjust amounts reported as income tax withheld in a prior calendar year unless it is to correct an administrative error. An administrative error would be any error that does not change the amount of income tax that was actually withheld or deducted from an employee. For example, if the total income tax actually withheld was incorrectly reported due to a mathematical or transposition error, this would be an administrative error.

You will not be allowed a refund or credit for any prior year overpayment of income tax that you withheld or deducted from an employee. This is because the employee uses the amount shown on Form W-2 as a credit when filing the income tax return (Form 1040, etc.).

Make prior period adjustments by adjusting your current tax liability and deposits. The net adjustments shown on Form 941 may include any number of corrections for one or more previous quarters, including both overpayments and underpayments.

Make these adjustments on Form 941 for the quarter in which you discover the errors. To make adjustments, you must submit Form 941 with a Form 941c or a statement providing all the required background information about the adjustments (see Form 941 instructions for the information required). Do not file Form 941c separately. If adjustments are made in accordance with the above rules, they qualify as interest-free adjustments.

Alternatively, if you discover an error on a prior quarter return resulting in a tax overpayment, you may file Form 843, Claim for Refund and Request for Abatement, for a refund of the amount overpaid. This form also can be used to request an abatement of an overassessment of employment taxes, interest, and/or penalties. You must attach Form 941c, or a statement providing all the required background information, to Form 843. See the separate Instructions for Form 843.

If you withhold no social security and Medicare taxes or less than the right amount from an employee's wages, you can make it up from later pay to that employee. But you are the one who owes the underpayment. Reimbursement is up to you and the employee. (This does not apply to tax on tips.)

If you withhold more than the right amount of social security and Medicare taxes from wages paid, give the employee the excess. Keep in your records the employee's written receipt showing the date and amount of the repayment. If you don't have a receipt, you must report and pay each excess amount when you file the return for the quarter in which you withheld too much tax.

When adjustments are made to correct social security and Medicare taxes because of a change in the wage totals reported for a previous year, you also may need to file Form W-2c, Statement of Corrected Income and Tax Amounts, and Form W-3c, Transmittal of Corrected Income and Tax Statements.

Modifying Forms 941 and 942 for Prior Years.—If you are filing an original return for a quarter in a prior year and you are using the current year form, you will have to modify Forms 941 and 942.

Caution: The instructions on the form may be inappropriate for the year for which you are reporting taxes because of changes in the law, regulations, or procedures. Contact the IRS if you have any questions. The revision date (found under the form number at the top of the form) will tell you the year for which the form was developed.

Note: A form for a particular year can generally be used without modification for any quarter within that year. For example, a form with any 1994 revision date (e.g., January or October 1994) can generally be used without modification for any quarter of 1994.

In all cases, however, be sure to correctly fill out the "Date quarter ended" section at the top of the form. If you are modifying a form with a label, change the date on the label (the date is shown with the month and year the quarter ends; for example, JUN94 would be for the quarter ending June 30, 1994). Cross out any inapplicable tax rate(s) shown on the form and write in the rate from the chart above. You can get tax rates and wage bases for years not shown in the table from the IRS.

13. Filing the Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees (Form 942)

Household Employees.—File Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees, for services performed in or about a private home. Generally, household work includes services performed in or about your private home by cooks, butlers, housekeepers, governesses, maids, cleaning people, babysitters, janitors, caretakers, handy persons, gardeners, and drivers of cars for family use.

Do not file Form 942 for the following: (1) If you are a sole proprietor and file Form 941 for business employees, you may include taxes for household employees on your Form 941. (2) For household employees in a private home on a farm operated for profit, file Form 943. They are considered farmworkers. (3) For domestic service in a college club, fraternity, or sorority, file Form 941. These services are not considered to have been performed in a private home.

You can withhold income tax from wages of your household employees if you and your employees agree to this arrangement.

You are liable for social security and Medicare taxes if you pay a household employee cash wages of $50 or more in a calendar quarter. It doesn't matter when the wages were earned. The $50 test applies to each household employee. Checks, money orders, etc., are the same as cash. The value of food, lodging, clothing, bus or subway tokens, and other noncash items you give to the employee is not subject to social security and Medicare taxes.

You do not have to pay social security and Medicare taxes on cash wages for any household service done in your home by your mother or father unless both 1 and 2 below apply.

- 1. You have in your home a son or daughter, or stepson or stepdaughter, who is under 18, or who has a physical or mental condition requiring the personal care of an adult for at least 4 continuous weeks in the quarter.
- 2. You are a widow or widower, or are divorced, or have a spouse in your home who, because of a physical or mental condition, is unable to care for your son or daughter, or stepson or stepdaughter, for at least 4 continuous weeks in the quarter.

The due dates for filing Form 942 are the same as for filing Form 941. See When To File on page 11.

For social security and Medicare taxes on household employees only, you may round each wage payment to the nearest whole dollar to figure taxes and report wages on your returns. If you do this, you must round off every wage payment made to every household employee during the same quarter. Get Pub. 926, Employment Taxes for Household Employers, for more information.

See Form 942 for instructions for preparing Form W-2.

14. Filing the Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return (Form 940 or 940-EZ)

The Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA), together with state unemployment systems, provides for payments of unemployment compensation to workers who have lost their jobs. Most employers pay both a Federal and state unemployment tax. Only the employer pays this tax; it is not deducted from the employee's wages. Use Form 940 or 940-EZ, Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return, to report Federal unemployment tax.

The IRS will mail a preaddressed Form 940 or 940-EZ to employers who filed returns the year before. If you do not receive Form 940 or 940-EZ, you can get one from the IRS.

By January 31, file Form 940 or 940-EZ and deposit or pay the balance of tax. If you deposit all FUTA tax when due, you may file Form 940 or 940-EZ by February 10.

You may be able to use Form 940-EZ if (1) unemployment taxes vou paid ("contributions") to only one state, (2) you paid these taxes by the due date of Form 940 or 940-EZ, (3) you paid wages that are not subject to the state unemployment laws of a credit reduction state, and (4) all wages that were taxable for FUTA tax purposes were also taxable for your state's unemployment tax. Otherwise, use Form 940. For example, if you paid wages to corporate officers (these wages are subject to FUTA tax) in a state that exempts these wages from its unemployment taxes, you cannot use Form 940-EZ.

For 1993 and 1994, the FUTA tax is 6.2% of wages paid during the year. The tax applies to the first $7,000 you pay each employee as wages during the calendar year. The $7,000 amount is the Federal wage base. Your state wage base may be different. Generally, you can take a credit against your FUTA tax for amounts you paid into state unemployment funds. This credit cannot be more than 5.4% of taxable wages. The FUTA tax rate after the credit is .8%. (See Instructions for Form 940 for details.)

Successor Employer.—If you acquired a business from someone who was an employer liable for FUTA tax, you may count the wages that employer paid to the employees who continue to work for you when you figure the wage limit. If the prior owner was not subject to FUTA tax, you may be eligible for a credit based on the state unemployment contributions paid by that owner, under Code section 3302(e) and Regulations section 31.3302(e)-(1). See Instructions for Form 940.

Magnetic Tape Filing of Form 940.— Reporting agents filing Forms 940 for groups of taxpayers may file them on magnetic tape. See Pub. 1314, Magnetic Tape Reporting of Form 940, Employer's Federal Unemployment Tax Return.

15. Advance Payment of the Earned Income Credit

An eligible employee (defined later) who has a qualifying child is entitled to receive earned income credit (EIC) payments with his or her pay during the year. To get these payments, the employee must give you a properly completed Form W-5, Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate. You are required to make advance EIC payments to employees who give you a completed and signed Form W-5.

Beginning in 1994, certain employees who do not have a qualifying child may be able to claim the EIC on their tax return. However, they cannot get advance EIC payments.

Payment of the advance EIC is limited to 60% of the EIC an eligible employee would receive if he or she has only one qualifying child. For 1994, the advance payment can be as much as $1,223. The tables that begin on page 54 reflect that limit.

Eligible Employee.—Only eligible employees can get advance EIC payments. The eligibility requirements for advance EIC are shown on Form W-5 and are summarized below:

- 1. The employee must have a qualifying child as defined on Form W-5.
- 2. The employee's expected 1994 earned income and adjusted gross income (including the spouse's income if the employee files a joint return) must each be less than $23,755.
- 3. The employee expects to be eligible to claim the EIC for 1994. Employees can get Pub. 553, Highlights of 1993 Tax Changes, to see if they are eligible to claim the EIC for 1994. If they expect to file Form 2555, Foreign Earned Income, or Form 2555-EZ, Foreign Earned Income Exclusion, for 1994, they cannot claim the EIC.

Form W-5.—On Form W-5, an employee states that he or she expects to be eligible for the EIC and shows whether he or she has a certificate in effect with any other current employer. The employee also shows the following:

- Whether he or she has a qualifying child.
- Whether he or she is married.
- If the employee is married, whether his or her spouse has a certificate in effect with any employer.

An employee may have only one certificate in effect with a current employer at one time. If an employee is married and his or her spouse also works, each spouse should file a separate Form W-5.

Length of effective period.—Form W-5 remains in effect until the end of the calendar year unless the employee revokes the certificate or files another one. Eligible employees must file a new certificate each year.

Change of status.—If an employee gives you a signed Form W-5 and later becomes ineligible for advance EIC payments, he or she must revoke the certificate within 10 days after learning about the change of circumstances. The employee must give you a new Form W-5 stating that he or she is no longer eligible for or no longer wants advance EIC payments.

If the employee's situation changes because his or her spouse files a Form W-5, the employee must file a new Form W-5 showing that his or her spouse has a certificate in effect with an employer. This will reduce the maximum amount of advance payments you can make to that employee.

If the employee's spouse has filed a Form W-5 that is no longer in effect, the employee may file a new Form W-5 with you, but is not required to do so. A new form will certify that the spouse does not have a certificate in effect and will increase the maximum amount of advance payments you can make to that employee.

Invalid certificate.—The Form W-5 is invalid if it is incomplete, unsigned, or has an alteration or unauthorized addition. The form has been altered if any of the language has been deleted. Any writing added to the form other than the requested entries is an unauthorized addition.

You should consider a certificate invalid if an employee has made an oral or written statement that clearly shows the Form W-5 to be false. If you receive an invalid certificate from an employee, tell the employee that the certificate is invalid as of the date the employee made the oral or written statement. For advance EIC payment purposes, the invalid certificate is considered void.

The employer is not required to determine if a completed and signed Form W-5 is correct. However, you should contact the IRS district director if you have reason to believe the certificate has any incorrect statement.

How To Figure the Advance EIC Payment.—You must include advance EIC payments with wages you pay to eligible employees who give you a signed and completed Form W-5. Make the initial certificate effective for the first payroll period ending (or the first wage payment made without regard to a payroll period) on or after the date the employee gives you the form.

For purposes of the advance EIC payment, wages means amounts subject to income tax withholding. For employees who claim exemption from income tax withholding on Form W-4, wages means amounts that would have been subject to income tax withholding. For household employees, wages means amounts subject to social security and Medicare taxes.

To figure the amount of the advance EIC payment to include with the employee's pay, you must consider:

- 1. Wages, including reported tips, for the pay period.
- 2. Whether the employee is married or single.
- 3. Whether a married employee's spouse has a Form W-5 in effect with an employer.

Note: If during the year you have paid an employee total wages of at least $23,755, you must stop making advance EIC payments to that employee for the rest of the year.

Figure the amount of advance EIC to include in the employee's pay by using the tables that begin on page 54. There are separate tables for employees whose spouses have a certificate in effect. If an employee shows on Form W-5 that his or her spouse has a Form W-5 in effect with an employer, use either the wage bracket or percentage method tables titled "MARRIED With Both Spouses Filing Certificate." Otherwise, use either the wage bracket or percentage method tables titled "SINGLE or MARRIED Without Spouse Filing Certificate." Be sure to use the correct table for your pay period (i.e., weekly, biweekly, monthly, daily, etc.). The amount of advance EIC paid to an employee during 1994 cannot exceed $1,223.

Example 1: You pay Wanda Carter $140 a week. She has given you a Form W-5 that shows she is married and her husband has given his employer a Form W-5. You have decided to use the wage bracket method to figure your advance EIC payments. You turn to the wage bracket tables for a weekly payroll period, and look at the table "MARRIED With Both Spouses Filing Certificate." According to this table, you will include an $8 advance EIC payment with Wanda Carter's net pay for the week.

Paying the Advance EIC to Employees.— An advance EIC payment is not wages and is not subject to withholding of income, social security, or Medicare taxes. An advance EIC payment does not change the amount of income, social security, or Medicare taxes you withhold from the employee's wages. You add the EIC payment to the employee's net pay for the pay period. At the end of the year, you show the total advance EIC payments in the box for "Advance EIC payment" on the Form W-2. Do not include this amount in the "Wages..." box.

Employer's returns.—Show the total payments you made to employees on the advance EIC lines of your Form 941, 942, or 943, whichever applies. Subtract this amount from your total taxes (see the specific instructions for each form).

Generally, employers will make the advance EIC payment from withheld income tax and employee and employer social security and Medicare taxes. These taxes are normally required to be paid over to the IRS either through Federal tax deposits or with employment tax returns. For purposes of deposit due dates, advance EIC payments are considered deposited on the day you pay wages (including the advance EIC payment) to your employees. The advance EIC payment reduces, in this order, the amount of income tax withholding, withheld employee social security and Medicare taxes, and the employer's share of social security and Medicare taxes.

Example 2: You have 10 employees, each entitled to an advance EIC payment of $10. The total advance payments you make for the payroll period is $100. The total income tax withholding for the payroll period is $90. The total employee and employer social security and Medicare taxes for the payroll period is $122.60 ($61.30 each).

You are considered to have made a deposit of $100 advance EIC payment on the day you paid wages, and you subtract this amount from your employment taxes for the payroll period. The $100 is treated as if you paid the IRS the $90 total income tax withholding and $10 of the employee social security and Medicare taxes. You remain liable only for $112.60 of the social security and Medicare taxes ($51.30 + $61.30 = $112.60).

Advance EIC Payments More Than Taxes Due.—If for any payroll period the total advance EIC payments are more than the total payroll taxes (withheld income tax and both employee and employer shares of social security and Medicare taxes), you may choose either of the following options:

Option 1.—Reduce each employee's advance payment by an amount figured by multiplying the employee's advance payment by a fraction. The numerator is the excess advance amount, and the denominator is the total advance EIC payments for the pay period. See Example 3 below.

Option 2.—Elect to make full payment of the advance EIC and treat the excess as an advance payment of employment taxes. The excess payment is applied first to income tax withholding, next to employee social security and Medicare taxes, and then to employer social security and Medicare taxes due for the reporting period in which the excess amount was paid.

Example 3: You have 10 employees who are each entitled to an advance EIC payment of $10. They are all student nurses whose wages are exempt from social security and Medicare taxes. The total amount of advance EIC payments for the payroll period is $100; the total income tax withholding is $90. The advance EIC amount is $10 more than the total income tax withholding.

Under Option 1, reduce the advance payment to each employee by $1.00, or 1/10 of the excess payment, figured as follows:

$10 (excess advance amount)

 $\frac{}{$100 \text{ (total advance payments)}} = 1/10 \times $10 = $1.00$

Under Option 2, you choose to pay each employee the full advance EIC amount ($100 total) and treat the excess advance payments ($10) as an advance payment of employment taxes. Show the full $100 as advance EIC on your employment tax return for the reporting period in which you made the payment.

If you elect to make full payment, you must include with your employment tax return a statement of the amount of the excess advance EIC payments and the payroll period to which the excess applies. You may make separate elections for separate pay periods. If the amount of employment taxes you owe on the return remains less than the amount of excess payment, you may claim a refund of the difference or have the credit applied to your next return.

Penalty.—You must make advance EIC payments to employees who correctly fill out Form W-5. If you do not, you are subject to a penalty equal to the amount of the advance EIC payments not made.

If you are in American Samoa, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam, or the Virgin Islands, consult your local tax office for information on the EIC. You cannot take advance EIC payments into account on Form 941-SS.

Required Notice to Employees

You must notify employees who have no income tax withheld that they may be able to claim a tax refund because of the EIC. Although you do not have to notify employees who claim exemption from withholding on Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, about the EIC, you are encouraged to notify any employees whose wages for 1993 were less than $23,050 that they may be eligible to claim the credit for 1993. This is because eligible employees may get a refund of the amount of EIC that is more than the tax they owe. For example, an employee who had no tax withheld in 1993 and owes no tax, but is eligible for a $330 EIC, can file a 1993 tax return to get a $330 refund.

You can notify your employees by giving them one of the following:

- 1. The IRS Form W-2, which has the required statement about the EIC on the back of Copy C.
- 2. A substitute Form W-2, with the same statement on the back of the employee copy that is on Copy C of the IRS Form W-2.
- 3. Notice 797, Possible Federal Tax Refund Due to the Earned Income Credit (EIC).
- 4. Your written statement with the exact wording as Notice 797.

If you are required to give Form W-2 and do so on time, no further notice is necessary if the Form W-2 has the required statement about the EIC on the back of the employee's copy. If a substitute Form W-2 is given on time but doesn't have the required statement, you must notify the employee within 1 week of the date the substitute Form W-2 was given. If Form W-2 is required but isn't given on time, you must give the employee Notice 797 or your written statement by the date Form W-2 was required to be given. If Form W-2 is not required, you must notify the employee by February 7, 1994.

For more information about notification requirements, see Pub. 1325, Employers—Required Notice to Certain Employees of a Possible Federal Tax Refund Due to the Earned Income Credit (EIC).

Note: For 1994, you are encouraged to notify the following employees that they may be able to claim the EIC on their 1994 returns:

- Employees with one qualifying child and wages less than $23,755.
- Employees with two or more qualifying children and wages less than $25,296.
- Employees without children and wages less than $9,000.

Employees may get Pub. 553, Highlights of 1993 Tax Changes, for more details.

Chapter II. Nonpayroll Income Tax Withholding

For payments made after December 31, 1993, income tax withheld on nonpayroll items can no longer be reported on Form 941. Nonpayroll items include the following:

- Pensions, Annuities, and IRAs
- Military Retirement
- Gambling Winnings
- Backup Withholding

This nonpayroll withholding must be reported on the new Form 945, Annual Return of Withheld Federal Income Tax. Form 945 is an annual tax return and the return for 1994 will be due January 31, 1995. Separate deposits are required for payroll and nonpayroll (Form 945) withholding beginning January 1, 1994 (see section 3 below).

All income tax withholding reported on Forms 1099 or W-2G must be reported on Form 945. For details on reporting withholding on Forms 1099 or W-2G, see the Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G.

1. Backup Withholding

Payers must generally withhold 31% of taxable interest, dividends, and certain other payments if payees fail to furnish payers with their correct taxpayer identification numbers. There are other circumstances when the payer is also required to withhold. This withholding is referred to as backup withholding. Please see Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, and the Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G for details. Backup withholding does not apply to wages, pensions, or annuities.

2. Income Tax Withholding From Pensions and Annuities

Generally, payers or plan administrators must withhold Federal income tax at specified rates on certain periodic, nonperiodic, and eligible rollover distributions (that are not direct rollovers) from pension, annuity, deferred income, and IRA payments. Recipients may also choose to have additional amounts withheld from periodic payments and nonperiodic distributions, or may choose exemption from withholding (however, see Periodic Payments and Nonperiodic Distributions Delivered Outside the United States below). They do this by submitting to the payer or administrator a Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments. Payers and administrators may substitute their own forms for this purpose. (See Regulations 31.3402(f)(5)-1.)

Note: Income tax withholding on military retirement pay must be reported on Form 945 and reported to the retirees on Form 1099-R. However, military retirees should give you a Form W-4 to request income tax withholding, not Form W-4P.

Withholding on Periodic Payments.—Generally, periodic payments are those payable for more than 1 year that are not eligible rollover distributions. Periodic payments include substantially equal payments made at least once a year over the life of the employee and/or beneficiaries or for 10 years or more. For withholding purposes, these payments are treated as if they are wages. You can figure withholding by using the income tax withholding tables and methods in this booklet or in Pub. 493.

Recipients of periodic payments can submit to you a Form W-4P to specify the number of withholding allowances and any additional amount they want withheld. They may also claim an exemption from withholding on Form W-4P or revoke a previously claimed exemption. If they do not submit a Form W-4P, you must figure withholding by treating a recipient as married with three withholding allowances. See Form W-4P.

Withholding on Nonperiodic Payments.—Withhold 10% of a nonperiodic payment that is not an eligible rollover distribution. The recipient may request additional withholding on Form W-4P or claim exemption from withholding.

Periodic Payments and Nonperiodic Distributions Delivered Outside the United States.—The election to be exempt from income tax withholding does not apply to any periodic payment or nonperiodic distribution that is delivered outside the United States or its possessions to a U.S. citizen or resident alien. See Form W-4P for more information. Others can elect exemption from withholding only if they certify to the payer that they are not (1) a U.S. citizen or resident alien or (2) an individual to whom Internal Revenue Code section 877 applies (concerning expatriation to avoid tax). The certification must be made in a statement to the payer under penalties of perjury.

Nonresident aliens who choose such exemption will be subject to withholding under Code section 1441. See Pub. 515.

Withholding on an Eligible Rollover Distribution.—Withhold 20% of an eligible rollover distribution unless the recipient elected to have the distribution paid in a direct rollover to an eligible retirement plan, including an IRA. An eligible rollover distribution is the taxable part of any distribution from a qualified plan or tax-sheltered annuity (but not an IRA) except (1) one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments (at least annually) made for the life or life expectancy of the employee and the employee's beneficiary or for a specified period of 10 years or more and (2) any part of a distribution that is a minimum distribution required by Code section 401(a)(9). Other exceptions may apply.

A recipient of an eligible rollover distribution cannot claim exemption from the 20% withholding. It is not necessary to claim exemption from withholding on a direct transfer to an IRA or other pension plan since withholding is not required in this situation. Therefore, do not provide the recipient Form W-4P for eligible rollover distributions.

You are not required to withhold 20% of an eligible rollover distribution that, when aggregated with other eligible rollover distributions made to one person during the year, is less than $200.

Notice to Recipient.—You must provide a written explanation to the recipient within a reasonable period of time before making an eligible rollover distribution. You must explain the rollover rules, the special tax treatment for lump-sum distributions, the direct rollover option, and the mandatory 20% withholding rule. Notice 92-48, 1992-2 C.B. 377, contains a model notice you can use to satisfy this requirement.

Similar rules apply to distributions from tax-sheltered annuities. The IRS has issued temporary regulations on these requirements under sections 401(a)(31), 402, 403(b), and 3405 (Treasury Decision 8443, 1992-2 C.B. 80).

3. Depositing and Reporting Nonpayroll Income Tax Withholding

Separate deposits are required for nonpayroll (Form 945) income tax withholding on payments made after December 31, 1993. Combine the withholding for all items reported on Form 945 and make separate deposits for these liabilities. Be sure to mark the "Form 945" checkbox on the Federal Tax Deposit coupon (Form 8109). Do not combine the Form 945 deposits with deposits for payroll taxes.

Although payroll and nonpayroll tax liabilities must be reported and deposited separately, the rules on how and when to deposit are basically the same. See Chapter I, section 11, for a detailed discussion of the deposit rules.

Because 1994 is the first year for Form 945, there are no prior year returns for purposes of the lookback rule for determining the deposit schedule (monthly or semiweekly). Therefore, there is a special Form 945 lookback rule for 1994 and 1995. After 1995, the lookback period is the second calendar year preceding the current calendar year. For example, the Form 945 lookback period for calendar year 1996 is calendar year 1994.

Special Deposit Schedule Rule for 1994 and 1995

Determine your 1994 deposit schedule for Form 945 as follows, and use the same deposit schedule for 1995. (Your 1995 deposit schedule for Form 941 will be based on the rules discussed in section 11 and may be different from the 1995 Form 945 schedule.)

For 1994, your Form 945 deposit schedule (monthly or semiweekly) will be the same as for Form 941. For both forms, your total liability for the 1994 lookback period (ending June 30, 1993) includes all Form 941 liabilities reported (payroll and nonpayroll liabilities). Do not separate payroll and nonpayroll liabilities for purposes of determining your lookback period liability for 1994.

The IRS sent you notification of your deposit schedule for 1994 during November 1993. Follow this schedule even if you have been reporting only nonpayroll liabilities on Form 941 or 941E and will not be filing a Form 941 for 1994. See the detailed discussion of the deposit rules in Chapter I, section 11.

Example: Employer A's Form 941 tax liabilities were as follows:

	Payroll	Nonpayroll	Total
	Liabilities	Liabilities	Liabilities
3rd Quarter 1992 4th Quarter 1992 1st Quarter 1993 2nd Quarter 1993	$10,000 $10,000 $10,000 $10,000	$3,000 $3,000 $3,000 $3,000	$13,000 * $13,000 * $13,000 * $13,000 * $52,000
3rd Quarter 1993	$10,000	$3,000	$13,000 *
4th Quarter 1993	$10,000	$3,000	$13,000 *
1st Quarter 1994	$10,000 *	$3,000 **
2nd Quarter 1994	$10,000 *	$3,000 **

- * Reported on Form 941.
-  Reported on Form 945.

For 1994, Employer A will have a semiweekly deposit schedule for both Forms 941 and 945 because the total tax liability for the Form 941 lookback period is over $50,000. For 1995, the deposit schedule for Form 945 will be semiweekly (same as 1994). However, the 1995 deposit schedule for Form 941 will be monthly since the total Form 941 lookback period liability ($13,000 + $13,000 + $10,000 + $10,000 = $46,000) is less than $50,000.

Chapter III. Information Returns

You may have to file information returns to report certain types of payments made during the year. For example, you must file Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income, to report payments of $600 or more to persons not treated as employees (e.g., independent contractors) for services performed for your trade or business. You can use the chart on pages 25 and 26 as a quick reference guide to 1993 information returns. For details about filing Forms 1099 and for information about required magnetic media filing, see the Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G. Do not use Forms 1099 to report wages and other compensation you paid to employees; report these on Form W-2. See the separate Instructions for Form W-2 for details. "Other compensation" to be reported on Form W-2 is described in section 2 below and in Chapter I, section 5.

1. Filing Forms W-2, 1099-R, and Other Information Returns

Forms W-2 and 1099-R.—By the last day of February, send to the SSA Copy A of all Forms W-2 issued for the previous year. File Form W-3 with the copies you send. The address is listed in the Form W-3 instructions.

By February 28, send Copy A of all Forms 1099-R with Form 1096 to the Internal Revenue Service Center for your locality.

If you file a final return on Form 941 before the end of the year, send the SSA all Copies A of the Forms W-2 issued for the year with Form W-3. Do this when you send the IRS your final return. However, you may file these forms by the last day of February of the following year.

If your payroll includes several separate establishments, you may group the copies for each establishment and send each group with a separate Form W-3, or you may use a single Form W-3.

If you have a very large number of forms, you may use several packages. Be sure to put your name on each package. Number the packages in order. Write the number of packages below the title on Form W-3 and put it in the first package. Use First-Class Mail to send the forms to the SSA.

Keep for 4 years any payee copies of Forms W-2 that you have tried to deliver without success. You must make a reasonable effort to deliver these statements. An example would be mailing the statement to the recipient's last known address.

Form 1099-MISC.—When preparing Form 1099-MISC for sole proprietors, show the individual's name on the first name line; on the second name line, you may enter the business name. You may not enter only the business name. For the Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), enter either the individual's SSN or the EIN of the business (sole proprietorship).

Information Reporting Call Site.—The IRS operates a centralized call site to answer questions about reporting on Forms W-2, W-3, 1099, and other information returns. If you have questions related to reporting on information returns, you may call (304) 263-8700 (not a toll-free number).

Filing on Magnetic Media.—In general, if you are required to file 250 or more information returns (Forms W-2, 1042-S, 1099, 1098, 5498, or W-2G), you must use magnetic media to file. This requirement applies separately to each type of information return. If you file on magnetic media, do not file the same returns on paper. The due dates for filing on magnetic media are the same as for paper documents.

If filing on magnetic media would be an undue hardship, you can apply for a waiver from this requirement, for 1 year at a time, by filing Form 8508, Request for Waiver From Filing Information Returns on Magnetic Media. Generally, apply for this waiver at least 45 days before the due date of the returns. For more information on obtaining a waiver, see Form 8508.

If you are filing 1099, 1098, 5498, or W-2G data on magnetic media for the first time, you must obtain IRS approval of the data format you plan to use. Form W-2 filers should see SSA's TIB-4 publication.

For additional information on filing information returns on magnetic media, you may write to the addresses below. Filers with access to a personal computer and modem may also obtain information on magnetic media filing from the electronic Bulletin Board System (BBS) through either the SSA-BBS or the IRP-BBS (IRS). By using your computer and modem, you can access the SSA-BBS by dialing 410-965-1133 or the IRP-BBS by dialing 304-263-2749. (These lines are not toll free or for voice use.)

2. Reporting to Employees on Form W-2

Form W-2.—Give a Form W-2 to each employee you pay for services. Pay includes cash and the cash value of anything else used to pay an employee for services. Furnish a Form W-2 to each recipient of supplemental unemployment compensation benefits or third-party sick pay.

What To Include on the 1993 Form W-2 (also see the 1993 Instructions for Form W-2).—Use Form W-2 to report all wages, tips, and other compensation you pay an employee. Other compensation means amounts includible in gross income but not subject to income tax withholding. It applies to both cash and noncash payments. Add the cash value of other compensation to the wages paid and tips reported. Show the total (excluding elective and nonelective deferrals. except those under section 501(c)(18)(D)) in box 1 on Form W-2. If you have a payroll system that makes it difficult to combine other compensation with wages and tips, you may file two Forms W-2. One can show wages and tips; the other can show the other compensation. Also include items such as:

1. Reimbursements you made to an employee for moving expenses that he or she cannot deduct and from which you withheld income tax. Report these reimbursements as wages.

When you reimburse or pay your employee's moving expenses (whether to your employee, to a third party for your employee, or by providing services in-kind to the employee), give the employee a completed Form 4782, Employee Moving Expense Information. Do this for each such move. (Note: There are different rules for services in-kind given to military personnel. See Pub. 521, Moving Expenses.)

2. Certain reimbursements for employee business expenses. Generally, payments made under an accountable plan are excluded from the employee's gross income and are not reported on Form W-2. However, if your employees receive per diem or mileage allowance payments in excess of the standard mileage rate, or the per diem or high-low substantiation methods (i.e., government specified rates), you must include as income any amount in excess of the government specified rates. The excess amounts are subject to income tax withholding, social security, Medicare, and Federal unemployment taxes. Use code "L" in box 13 to report the amount that is equal to the government specified rates.

Payments made under a nonaccountable plan are reportable as wages on Form W-2 and are subject to income tax withholding, social security, Medicare, and Federal unemployment taxes.

For more information on accountable plans, nonaccountable plans, the standard mileage rate, the per diem substantiation method, and the high-low substantiation method, see Regulations section 1.62-2; Rev. Procs. 91-67, 1991-2 C.B. 887, and 92-17, 1992-1 C.B. 679; Pub. 463, Travel, Entertainment, and Gift Expenses; and Pub. 1542, Per Diem Rates.

3. The cost of group-term life insurance in excess of $50,000 that you buy for an employee (including a former employee). Show only the amount that is includible in the employee's gross income. The amount of group-term life insurance costs includible as income is also subject to social security and Medicare taxes. (See Pub. 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income, for details.)

Note: A former employee must pay the employee part of social security and Medicare taxes on premiums for group-term life insurance over $50,000 on Form 1040. You are not required to collect those taxes. However, you must report the uncollected taxes on Form W-2. See codes C, M, and N under box 13 in the 1993 Instructions for Form W-2.

- 4. The value of noncash prizes or awards to retail commission salespersons. Show the value of noncash prizes or awards from which you do not withhold income tax. This applies only to employees you ordinarily pay on a cash commission basis.
- 5. Employer contributions to a section 403(b) annuity contract that are more than the limitation for the tax year. See Pub. 571, Tax-Sheltered Annuity Programs for Employees of Public Schools and Certain Tax-Exempt Organizations.
- 6. Amounts paid to or on behalf of an employee for educational assistance that is not job related. Generally, amounts paid for educational assistance that is job related are not included as income. However, see Pub. 508, Educational Expenses, for more information.

Deceased Worker's Wages.—Payments to an estate or beneficiary for wages or other compensation of a deceased employee must be reported on Form 1099-MISC. Enter the name and taxpayer identification number (SSN or EIN) of the recipient on Form 1099-MISC. However, a deceased employee's wages paid to a beneficiary or estate in the year of death are subject to social security and Medicare taxes. Therefore, two information returns may be required for wages paid during the year of death; Forms 1099-MISC and W-2. For information on how to report, see the Instructions for Form W-2 and Rev. Rul. 86-109, 1986-2 C.B. 196.

Dependent Care Benefits.—Report the total amount paid (or incurred) to your employee (or to a third party for your employee) for dependent care benefits under Code section 129 in box 10 of Form W-2. Include the fair market value of employer-provided or employer-sponsored day care facilities and amounts paid or incurred in a section 125 plan. Employers who provide dependent care services or pay a dependent care provider should assist employees in obtaining a completed Form W-10, Dependent Care Provider's Identification and Certification. For more information on the amount to report, see Notice 89-111, 1989-2 C.B. 449.

Employees Covered by a Pension Plan.—If an employee was an active participant (for any part of the year) in a retirement plan you maintained (including a simplified employee pension (SEP) plan) or if your employee penticipates in a collectively bargained plan (i.e., union pension plan), check the "Pension plan" box in box 15 of Form W-2. See the Instructions for Form W-2 for details.

Repayments.—If employees or recipients of pensions and annuities make repayments to you for amounts received in error, do not offset the repayments against current-year payments unless the repayments are for amounts received in error in the current year. Repayments made in the current year, but related to a prior year or years, require special tax treatment by employees or recipients in some cases. You may advise these individuals of the total repayments made during the current year and the amount (if any) related to prior years. This information will help them account for such repayments on their Federal income tax returns.

Uncollected Tax on Tips.—If enough funds were not available during the year to collect the employee social security and Medicare taxes on tips, enter the uncollected amounts in box 13 of Form W-2 with codes A and B.

Allocated Tips.—Large food or beverage employers with employees who receive tips and who report less than 8% of adjusted gross receipts as tips must show the allocated tips in box 8 on Form W-2. See the separate Instructions for Form 8027.

Advance Payment of the EIC.—If during the year you made advance earned income credit (EIC) payments to an employee, enter the amount in box 9 on Form W-2. See Chapter I, section 15, for details.

Fringe Benefits.—Include all taxable fringe benefits in box 1 of the employee's Form W-2, as wages, tips, and other compensation and, if applicable, in boxes 3 and 5 as social security and Medicare wages. Show the total value of the fringe benefits in box 12 on Form W-2 (or you may issue a separate Form W-2 showing just the value of the fringe benefits in boxes 1, 3, and 5 and a note in box 12). The amounts reported in boxes 13 and/or 10 of the Form W-2 should not be included in the amount reported in box 12. If you gave the employee a vehicle and included 100% of the value of the use in the employee's income, you must separately report this value to the employee in box 12 or on a separate statement. The employee can then figure the value of any business use of the vehicle and report it on Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses.

Note: If you used the commuting rule or the vehicle cents-per-mile rule to value the personal use of the vehicle, you cannot include 100% of the value of the use of the vehicle in the employee's income. See Pub. 535.

Scholarships and Fellowship Grants.— Only give a Form W-2 to each recipient of a scholarship or fellowship grant if you are reporting amounts includible in income under Code section 117(c) (relating to payments for teaching, research, or other services required as a condition for receiving the qual-(See Pub. scholarship). Employment Taxes and Information Returns. for further information.) Such amounts are subject to income tax withholding. However, their taxability for social security, Medicare, and FUTA taxes depends on the nature of the employment and the status of the organization (see Students on pages 19 and 20).

Golden Parachute Payments.—Include the amount of the payments in boxes 1, 3, and 5 of Form W-2. Withhold income, social security, and Medicare taxes as usual and report them in boxes 2, 4, and 6, respectively, of Form W-2. Excess payments are also subject to a 20% excise tax. If the excess payments are considered wages, withhold the 20% excise tax and include it in box 2 as income tax withholding. Also report it separately in box 13. See Golden Parachutes on page 4.

Third-Party Payments of Sick Pay.— Third-party payments of sick pay must be reported to the recipients on Form W-2. Whether you or the third-party payer must report the amounts depends on certain conditions. See page 6 for details.

When To Furnish Form W-2 to Employees.—Furnish each employee a Form W-2 for the calendar year, and any corrected statements made in the year, by January 31 of the following year. If an employee stops working for you before the end of the year, you may give him or her Form W-2 any time after employment ends but not later than January 31 of the following year. However, if the employee asks you for Form W-2, give him or her the completed form within 30 days after the request or the final wage payment, whichever is later. Keep Copy A of Form W-2 to file with Form W-3.

Correcting Form W-2.—Use Form W-2c, Statement of Corrected Income and Tax Amounts, to correct errors on previously filed Forms W-2 and W-2P. Send Forms W-2c with Form W-3c, Transmittal of Corrected Income and Tax Statements. File Form W-3c to correct a previously filed Form W-3.

If an employee loses or destroys his or her copies, give the employee copies of Form W-2 marked "Reissued Statement." Do not send Copy A of the reissued form to the SSA.

If a form is corrected before you file Copy A with the SSA, give the employee the corrected copies. Mark the original Copy A "Void" in the proper box and send the new Copy A to the SSA. Do not write "Corrected" on the new Copy A.

How To Get Forms.—You can get Form W-2 from the IRS (see page 63). Private printers also produce them. You can use these substitute forms for filing returns with the SSA and for giving statements to employees if they comply with the requirements in Pub. 1141. The paper forms you file with the SSA must be in scannable format.

Pub. 1141 explains the format that must be used on substitute paper Forms W-2 and W-3.

Penalties.—For penalty provisions for Form W-2, see Information Return Penalties below.

3. Reconciling Forms W-2, W-3, and 941

When there are discrepancies between Forms 941 filed with the IRS and Forms W-2 and W-3 filed with the SSA, we must contact you to resolve the discrepancies. This costs time and money, both for the Government and for you the employer.

To help reduce errors that can cause discrepancies—

- 1. Report bonuses as wages and as social security and Medicare wages on Forms W-2 and 941.
- 2. Report both social security and Medicare wages and taxes separately on Forms W-2, W-3, and 941.
- 3. Report social security taxes on Form W-2 in the box for social security tax withheld, not as social security wages.
- 4. Report Medicare taxes on Form W-2 in the box for Medicare tax withheld, not as Medicare wages.
- 5. Make sure social security wage amounts for each employee do not exceed the annual social security wage base.
- 6. Do not report noncash wages that are not subject to social security or Medicare taxes as social security or Medicare wages.
- 7. If you used an EIN on any of the four quarterly Forms 941 for the year that is different from the EIN reported on Form W-3, enter the other EIN on Form W-3 in the box for "Other EIN used this year."

To reduce the discrepancies between amounts reported on Forms W-2, W-3, and 941—

- 1. Be sure the amounts on Form W-3 are the total amounts from Forms W-2.
- 2. Reconcile Form W-3 with your four quarterly Forms 941 by comparing amounts reported for—
- Social security wages, social security tips, and Medicare wages and tips. Form W-3 should include Form 941 adjustments only for the current year (i.e., if the Form 941 adjustments include amounts for a prior year, do not report those adjustments on the current-year Form W-3).

- Social security and Medicare taxes. The amounts shown on the four quarterly Forms 941 including current-year adjustments should be approximately twice the amounts shown on Form W-3. This is because Form 941 includes both the employer and employee shares of social security and Medicare taxes.
- Advance earned income credit.
- For payments made after December 31, 1993, do not report on Form 941 nonpayroll items such as backup withholding and withholding on pensions, annuities, and gambling winnings. These nonpayroll items must be reported on the new Form 945 (see Chapter II for details). Income tax withholding required to be reported on Forms 1099 or W-2G must be reported on Form 945. Only taxes and withholding properly reported on Form W-2 should be reported on Form 941.

As noted, amounts reported on Forms W-2, W-3, and 941 may not match for valid reasons. If they do not match, you should determine that the reasons are valid. Keep your reconciliation so you will have a record of why amounts did not match in case there are inquiries from the IRS or the SSA.

4. Information Return Penalties

A penalty may be imposed if you fail to file (on paper or on magnetic media) an information return (including Forms W-2 and 1099) or you file with incorrect information.

The amount of the penalty is based on when the correct information returns are filed. The penalty is:

- $15 for each information return if you correctly file within 30 days after the due date (by March 30 if the due date is February 28) with a maximum penalty of $75,000 per year ($25,000 for small businesses, defined below).
- $30 for each information return if you correctly file more than 30 days after the due date but by August 1, with a maximum penalty of $150,000 per year ($50,000 for small businesses).

- $50 for each information return if you correctly file after August 1 or you do not file at all, with a maximum penalty of $250,000 per year ($100,000 for small businesses).
- At least $100 for each information return if your failure is due to intentional disregard of the filing requirements, with no maximum penalty.

Exceptions.—In general, the penalty will not apply to any failure that was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

In addition, the penalty will not apply to a de minimis number of failures. These failures are information returns that were filed but with incomplete or incorrect information and were corrected by August 1. The penalty will not apply to the greater of 10 information returns or $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% of the total number of information returns you were required to file for the year.

Definition of Small Business.—A small business is a firm with average annual gross receipts of $5 million or less for the 3 most recent tax years.

Failure to Provide Payee Statement or Providing Incorrect Payee Statement.—A penalty may be imposed if you either fail to furnish a payee statement by the due date or fail to include all correct information on a payee statement. The penalty is $50 for each failure. The maximum penalty for such failures is $100,000 per year.

Business Reporting

If you are a small business, self-employed, sole proprietor, independent contractor, or a member of a partnership, you may want to get Pub. 937, Employment Taxes and Information Returns, for useful information on business reporting.

Income Tax Withholding and Advance Earned Income Credit (EIC) Payment Methods

Percentage Method

If you do not want to use the wage bracket tables on pages 31-50 to figure how much income tax to withhold, you can use a percentage computation based on the table below and the appropriate rate table. This method works for any number of withholding allowances the employee claims.

Use these steps to figure the income tax to withhold under the percentage method:

- 1. Multiply one withholding allowance (see table below) by the number of allowances the employee claims.
- 2. Subtract that amount from the employee's wages.
- 3. Determine amount to withhold from appropriate table on pages 29 and 30.

Percentage Method—Amount for One Withholding Allowance

With moraling 71
Payroll Period	ŀ				One with- holding allowance
Weekly					$47.12
Biweekly					94.23
Semimonthly					102.08
Monthly					204.17
Quarterly					612.50
Semiannually					1,225.00
Annually					2,450.00
Daily or misco
(each day of	the	pay	rol	l
period)					9.42

Example: An unmarried employee is paid $450 weekly. This employee has in effect a Form W-4 claiming two withholding allowances. Using the percentage method, figure the income tax as follows:

1. Total wage payment . . . $450.00

2.	One allowance $47.12
3.	Allowances claimed on Form W-42
4.	Multiply line 2 by line 3	$94.24
5.	Amount subject to withholding (subtract line 4 from line 1)	$355.76
6.	Tax to be withheld on $355.76 from Table 1—single person,
	page 29	$ 45.86

To figure the income tax to withhold, you may reduce the last digit of the wages to zero, or figure the wages to the nearest dollar.

Annual Income Tax Withholding.—Figure the income tax to withhold on annual wages under the Percentage Method of Withholding for an annual payroll period. Then prorate the tax back to the payroll period.

Example: A married person claims four withholding allowances. She is paid $1,000 a week. Multiply the weekly wages by 52 weeks to figure the annual wage of $52,000. Subtract $9,800 (the value of four withholding allowances) for a balance of $42,200. Using the table for the annual payroll period, $5,416.50 is withheld. Divide the annual tax by 52. The weekly tax is $104.16.

Wage Bracket Method

Under the wage bracket method, find the proper table (on pages 31 through 50) for your payroll period and the employee's marital status as shown on his or her Form W-4. Then, based on the number of withholding allowances claimed on the Form W-4 and the amount of wages, find the amount of tax to withhold. If your employee is claiming more than 10 withholding allowances, see below.

Note: If you cannot use the wage bracket tables because wages exceed the amount shown in the last bracket of the table, use the percentage method of withholding described above. Be sure to reduce wages by the amount of total withholding allowances before using the percentage method tables on pages 29 and 30.

Adjusting Wage Bracket Withholding for Employees Claiming More Than 10 Withholding Allowances

Note: The percentage method of figuring withholding adapts to any number of allowances.

The wage bracket tables can be used if an employee claims up to 10 allowances. More than 10 allowances may be claimed because of the special withholding allowance, additional allowances for deductions and credits, and the system itself.

To adapt the tables to employees with more than 10 allowances:

- 1. Multiply the number of withholding allowances over 10 by the allowance value for the payroll period. (The allowance values are in the Percentage Method—Amount for One Withholding Allowance above.)
- 2. Subtract the result from the employee's wages.
- 3. On this amount, find and withhold the tax in the column for 10 allowances.

This is a voluntary method. If you use the wage bracket tables, you may continue to withhold the amount in the "10" column when your employee has more than 10 allowances, using the method above. You can also use any other methods described below.

Alternative Methods of Income Tax Withholding

Rather than the Percentage or Wage Bracket Methods described above, you can use an alternative method to withhold income tax. Pub. 493, Alternative Tax Withholding Methods and Tables, describes these alternative methods and contains:

- 1. Formula tables for percentage method withholding (for automated payroll systems).
- 2. Wage bracket percentage method tables (for automated payroll systems).
- 3. Combined income, social security, and Medicare tax withholding tables.

Some alternative methods explained in Pub. 493 are annualized wages, average estimated wages, cumulative wages, and partyear employment. For more information on alternative methods, see Regulations sections 31.3402(h)(1)-1-(h)(4)-1.

Advance Payment Methods for the Earned Income Credit

To figure the advance EIC payment, you may use either the Percentage Method or the Wage Bracket Method explained below. You may use other methods for figuring advance EIC payments if the amount of the payment is about the same as it would be using tables in this booklet. See the tolerances allowed in the chart under Other Methods in Pub. 493. See page 13 in this booklet for an explanation of the advance payment of EIC.

Percentage Method

If you do not want to use the wage bracket tables to figure how much to include in an employee's wages for the advance EIC payment, you can use the percentage computation based on the appropriate rate table.

Find the employee's gross wages before any deductions in the appropriate table on pages 54 and 55. There are different tables for (a) single or married employees without spouse filing a certificate and (b) married employees with both spouses filing certificates. Determine the amount of the advance EIC payment shown in the appropriate table for the amount of wages paid.

Wage Bracket Method

If you use the wage bracket tables on pages 56 through 59, figure the advance EIC payment as follows.

Find the employee's gross wages before any deductions using the appropriate table. There are different tables for (a) single or married employees without spouse filing a certificate and (b) married employees with both spouses filing certificates. Determine the amount of the advance EIC payment shown in the appropriate table for the amount of wages paid.

With either method, the number of withholding allowances an employee claims on Form W-4 is not used in figuring the advance EIC payment. Nor does it matter that the employee has claimed exemption from income tax withholding on Form W-4.

Whole Dollar Withholding and Paying Advance EIC

The income tax withholding amounts in the wage bracket tables (pages 31 through 50) have been rounded to whole dollar amounts.

When employers use the percentage method (pages 29 and 30) or an alternative method of income tax withholding, the tax for the pay period may be rounded to the nearest dollar.

The wage bracket tables for advance EIC payments (pages 56 through 59) have also been rounded to whole dollar amounts. If you use the percentage method for advance EIC payments (pages 54 and 55), the payments may be rounded to the nearest dollar.

If rounding is used, it must be used consistently. Withheld tax amounts should be rounded to the nearest whole dollar by (1) dropping amounts under 50 cents and (2) increasing amounts from 50 to 99 cents to the next higher dollar. For example, $2.30 becomes $2, and $2.80 becomes $3.

Federal Tax Deposit Coupon Form 8109-B (Rev. 1-94)

Federal Tax Deposit Coupon Form 8109

- 1. Verify your name and employer identification number (EIN) on the preprinted FTD coupon. This will ensure that your deposit is applied to the proper account. To indicate a change, place an "X" in the box and enter the correct name and EIN. DO NOT MAKE ADDRESS CHANGES here. See the instructions under FTD Address Change, below.
- 2. Write in the money amount—do not type. Also, do not enter dollar signs, commas, decimal points, or leading zeroes. If your deposit is for whole dollars only, be sure to enter 00 in the CENTS boxes.
- 3. To indicate the type of tax, darken the box to the left of the appropriate form. Do not darken the "IRS USE ONLY" box.

Note to Schedule A (Form 941) Filers (4th quarter 1993 ONLY): If you are making a deposit for the 4th quarter 1993 during January 1994, darken the 945 box under TYPE OF TAX and the 4th Quarter box under TAX PERIOD.

4. Always darken the box indicating the quarter that the deposit is for—not the quarter in which you are making the deposits. For payroll, withholding, and excise tax deposits, the quarters are:

2nd quarter - Apr. 1 through June 30 4th quarter - Oct. 1 through Dec. 31

For business income tax deposits (this includes the excise tax on net investment income for Form 990-PF filers), darken the 1st Quarter box for deposits made before the end of your tax year. Darken the 4th Quarter box for deposits made after the end of the year. Deposits for different types of taxes and for different quarters cannot be combined. Each needs its own FTD coupon.

5. Be sure to include your daytime telephone number in the space provided.

FTD Address Change Form 8109C

If you are changing only your address (for example, if you want your coupons sent to a different address), continue to use the coupons you have. Show a change of address on Form 8109C, FTD Address Change. A new FTD coupon book will be issued. However, you may continue to use the old coupons until you receive the new book. Note: This address change only changes the address on the FTD coupons. It does not change your IRS account address (the address the IRS uses to send your tax forms, refunds, and notices to you). If you want to change your account address, other than for FTD coupons, use Form 8822, Change of Address.

AUTOGEN

(THE AUTOMATED GENERATION OF FTD COUPONS)

The FTD coupon book is designed so that the FTD coupon books will be sent automatically to you. In the event you must make an FTD deposit and you do not have a deposit coupon, contact your local IRS office and provide the following information: business name, address where you want the coupon books sent, number of coupon books, and EIN. Also, include the month in which your tax year ends if you have a Form 1120, Form 990-C, Form 990-PF (with net investment income), Form 990-T, or Form 2438 filing requirement.

Federal Tax Deposit Coupon Form 8109-B

- 1. Enter the month that your tax year ends in this space if you are filling in the 1120, 990-C, 990-PF, or 990-T box; otherwise, leave it blank. For example, if your tax year ends in January, enter 01; if it ends in December, enter 12.
- 2. Write in your EIN and the money amount. Do not type it in or use dollar signs, commas, decimal points, or leading zeroes. Be sure to enter 00 in the CENTS boxes if your deposit is for whole dollars only.
- 3. To ensure proper credit to your account, use the name and address preprinted on the current business tax forms mailed to you by the IRS, such as Form 940 or 941. This is your correct IRS account identification.
- 4. To indicate the type of tax, darken the box to the left of the appropriate form. Do not darken the "IRS USE ONLY" box.

 Note to Schedule A (Form 941) Filers (4th quarter 1993 ONLY): If you are making a deposit for the 4th quarter 1993 during January 1994, darken the 945 box under TYPE OF TAX and the 4th Quarter box under TAX PERIOD.

5. Darken the box to the left of the quarter that corresponds to the quarter that the deposit is for—not the quarter in which you are making the deposit. For payroll, withholding, and excise tax deposits, the quarters are:

1st quarter - Jan. 1 through Mar. 31 3rd quarter - July 1 through Sept. 30
2nd quarter - Apr. 1 through June 30 4th quarter - Oct. 1 through Dec. 31
For business income tax deposits (this includes the excise tax on net investment income for Form 990-PF filers), darken the 1st Quarter box for deposits made before the end of your tax year. Darken the 4th Quarter box for deposits made after the end of the year.

If you need coupon books and you are not being resupplied automatically, call the IRS or write your Internal Revenue Service Center and provide the following information: business name, address where you want the coupon books sent, number of coupon books, and EIN. Also include the month in which your tax year ends if you have a Form 1120, 990-C, 990-PF (with net investment income), 990-T, or 2438 filing requirement.

Be sure to include your daytime telephone number in the space provided.
